Water Now OK, But the Air?

Water on both sides of Westfield is now safe to drink. After almost a week of boiling water for drinking and cooking, precautionary measures were lifted for the northside community at 10 a.m. yesterday.

Southside residents had been released from the directive issued by the Board of Health on Monday.

According to Joseph J. Mottley, town health officer, residents of the north side were more seriously affected by the water pollution, with several cases of illness, particularly in the Echo Lake Country Club and Wychwood areas, believed attributable to the drinking water. While Mr. Mottley contended no specific bacteria was found in tests run by the State Department of Health, evidence of coliform bacteria indicated an index of pollution.

The water situation, as well as "noxious and strange odors" in the air, was subject for discussion Tuesday night at a meeting of the Town Council. One resident, Robert S. Everett of 22 Carol Rd., scored Elizabeth Town Water Co. and authorities as "remains" for not taking precautions earlier. He claimed that some 50 calls complaining about water conditions had been received by the water company as early as Tuesday, two days prior to the issuance of directives to boil water.

Mr. Everett's feelings have been echoed by a number of residents who have called the Leader and spoken with authorities. Health officers and members of the medical profession have met on several occasions to discuss the situation.

While water lines throughout the area were flushed and the water has been chlorinated to combat the contamination, the situation was more serious on the north side of town closest to the Cranford and Kenilworth communities, which experienced heavy flooding in the previous week's record rainstorm. Water pipes do not cross under the railroad, the mayor said, explaining why the southside water was given a clean bill at an earlier date.

Commenting on the "strange" smell in the area, Mayor Mulreany said that police and town officials have been deluged with complaints about the conditions during periods of "heavy air" here. This has prompted him to send telegrams to Dr. Roscoe P. Kandle of the New Jersey State Department of Health, Richard Sullivan of the State Division of Clean Air and Water and the United States Department of Health urging them to "investigate the source and report steps to correct this health hazard."

Approved following a public hearing was an ordinance providing $35,000 for curb and sidewalk replacement throughout town. Some $20,000 of this will be added to a holdover fund of $20,000 from last year to replace deteriorating curbing in the central business district. The remaining $15,000 will be used to replace the curbing in the central business district. (Continued on page 2)

Mrs. Claman Re-elected Republican Chairman

Mrs. Arnold Y. Claman has been re-elected chairman of the Westfield Town Republican Committee. Serving with her are Edward Scott, vice-chairman; Mrs. Rudolph Caporale, secretary; and J. R. Greisner, treasurer.

Robert Watson has been named delegate to the county committee. Mrs. Robert Ferguson assistant secretary, Edward Matthews assistant treasurer and Mrs. J. G. Van Dusen alternate delegate.

Selected as ward leaders are Robert L. Evans, Ward 1; Robert Mendez, Ward 2; Mrs. E. H. Yeager, Ward 3; and Mrs. Mark L. Moutz, Ward 4.

Berenson Assumes Post As Democratic Leader

Robert Berenson has been elected chairman of the Westfield Town Democratic Committee to succeed Thomas Stoult, who will be party's nominee for mayor in the fall General Election.

Also elected at the annual organizational meeting Monday night were Luigi Contini, vice-chairman; Mrs. Rudolph Cowles, vice-chairlady; Mrs. John Fife, secretary; and Norman Wellen, treasurer.

Response Grows To Plea For Cacciola Land Funds

Enthusiastic response to Sunday's Cacciola Place housing appeal from the pulpits of Westfield churches was indicated by officials of the Community Development Corporation at their Monday night meeting. The response took the form of memberships in the corporation as encouraged by Mayor Mulreany. Elimination of substandard housing in the Cacciola Pl. area is the immediate goal of the private, non-profit Community Development Corporation.

H. Kenneth Mathis, treasurer, reported that contributions were reported in at "a surprising rate." President Daniel F. Lundy praised the cooperation of the churches, the response of their congregations, and especially the leadership of Mayor Mulreany who spearheaded the membership drive. He stated that in many ways the corporation's effort is a first for the country, making Westfield a "trail blazing community" in the drive for decent housing for all citizens.

The fund drive, although encouraging at this early stage, still requires substantial pledges of support by members of the community to meet its initial goal of $90,000. This amount would enable the corporation to acquire needed land and finance the first phase of the project calling for construction and rehabilitation of 22 housing units.

Although corporation members feel many problems of society need solving, it is their general feeling that a beginning, here at home in housing is a giant step in the right direction.

NHS Awards Two Scholarships

The National Honor Society of Westfield Senior High announced the winners of two scholarships at its annual dinner recently. One award of $400 was presented to Robert D. Delio Russo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Delio Russo of 751 Belvedere Ave. A second, known as the Christine Collins Memorial Scholarship, was granted to Robin A. Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Shaw of 632 Norwood Dr.

The two scholarships, raised from National Honor Society activities and a donation, are awarded each year to seniors who rank in the top quarter of their class and show citizenship and excellence in pursuing an education.

Miss Shaw, who has been active in intramural athletics, the Cinema Club, and her church youth group, will attend Hood College and plans to major in home economics. Delio Russo, a member of the soccer and track teams, will attend Bucknell University, where he plans to major in physics.

Christmas In June-Red Cross Prepares Now For Yule in Vietnam

Christmas 1968 is coming soon and exclusively a Red Cross presents the "Christmas in June" campaign. Mrs. Montgomery explained that the campaign is to help the Red Cross Chapter here in June.

The Red Cross Chapter here is joining with others across the country in a nationwide project to make and fill gift bags to be distributed to U.S. servicemen and servicewomen stationed in Vietnam at Christmas time.

"Red Cross Shop Early-Vietnam 1968" is intended to be "a tangible way for Americans to say we care about our troops in Vietnam," Mrs. J. Story Lee, executive director of the local chapter, said.

The Westfield-Mountaineers Chapter has been asked by the national organization to make and fill 700 bags. The bags are to be made of sturdy cotton material so that they will be serviceable to their owners after the original contents are used.

Mrs. Frederick Montgomery, production chairman of the chapter is in charge of this huge project. "This is needed, she said in sewing the bags and assembling them. All of the material has been donated, but with eight gifts in each bag, hundreds of the following suggested items are needed: Writing paper, plastic soap dishes, nail clippers, dark washcloths, small puzzles and games, ballpoint pens, small plastic bags and small tins of nuts or candies.

"The Westfield-Mountaineers chapter is aiming at completion of the project by Sept. 20," Mrs. Montgomery said.

Interested persons may contact the chapter at 231 Elm St. for sewing assignments. Those wishing to donate gifts may leave them at the chapter between 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Director Announces Playground Staff, Program to Begin June 25

Under the direction of Ruth V. Hill, the Westfield Recreation Commission has planned another full season of activities for the nine playgrounds and two teen centers. The grounds will officially open 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday, June 25. Registration will begin Monday, June 24, from 2 to 3:30 and continue throughout the summer.

Mrs. Hill has announced staff members for the 1968 playground program.

John Holbrook, teacher at Grant School, is again returning as special assistant to the director and director of the arts and crafts program. Each week new crafts are introduced on every playground. Some of these include gimp braiding, tile crafts, colonial mats, basketry, pot holders, plaster molds, and stick crafts. Assisting Mr. Holbrook for his third year is Beryl Taylor.

Heading a new position this year as program coordinator is Linda Maggio. Linda, who was previously leader at Jefferson playground, will be coordinating the summer activities at all 11 grounds.

Publicity for the playground program will be directed by Phyllis Manthey. Phyllis, who has been with the staff for four years, will be teaching in the fall. William Phillips, a high school senior, who has served as a photographer for the WHS yearbooks, will be the full time photographer for the playgrounds.

Eileen Ahern, who has been secretary and office assistant for the Recreation Department for the past three years, will again be an office assistant.

Director of the "Art for Fun" program will be Joseph Hawkins. Mr. Hawkins has conducted a full course of instruction for all the leaders to follow. The various medias of charcoal, pastels, oils, water colors and tissues will be available for all playgrounders to explore. The teen centers will specialize in painting with oils.

The new basketball program, which has been set up for the two teen centers, will be directed by Robert Fulton and assisted by Cyril Fulton. Robert Fulton is the varsity basketball coach at WHS and Cyril Fulton is the basketball coach at Roosevelt Jr. High. The basketball clinic will be held at Edison teen center on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2 to 4, and at Roosevelt teen center on Mondays and Wednesdays from 2 to 4. The Fulton brothers also will supervise informal basketball play Monday and Wednesday evenings at Tamaques Park for Edison teen center members.

Anthony Patriarca, teacher at Edison Jr. High School, has organized a special graphic arts program for junior high students, using the workshops at Edison Jr. High teen center.

This year's tennis instruction program will be directed by Peter Rodd. Pete, who has been with the staff for four years, has been active in tennis throughout high school and college. He will be assisted by Tom Catalon, Rachel Maidment and David Twitchell.

Twirling instruction, which will again be available to all playgrounders, will be directed by Marilyn Habersberger. Marilyn, who has worked for the department for four years, will have three assistants. They are Susan Warren, Sharon Clancy and Judy Pfeiffer. Marilyn (Continued on page 2)

It is presented to the graduate who, in the opinion of his coaches, has best demonstrated his success in, and love for, the sport of wrestling and who plans to continue his participation in that sport in college.

Other prizes, their donors and recipients are: Bausch and Lomb honorary science award for promise in (Continued on page 2)

Library Book Sale Saturday

A sale of books culled from shelves of the Westfield Memorial Library is scheduled for Saturday in the library parking lot. Conducted by the board of trustees, the sale will open at 10 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. Discarded books from the adult and children's departments, including worn out copies, material replaced with newer copies and duplicate gift copies of books and magazines will be sold. Trustees of the library have conducted such sales for the last few years. Among purchases made with proceeds from the earlier sales is a new 13-volume unabridged set of the Oxford English Dictionary for the reference room.

In the event of rain the sale will be held in the rotunda between the library and town hall.

Reception to Honor Franklin Principal

A reception will be held tonight from 8 to 10 p.m. to honor Frank Franklin, principal of Benjamin Franklin School, in the Franklin Junior High School.

Mr. Franklin is completing his last year at Franklin. He will be principal of Jefferson School next year. The Franklin PTA is in charge and all parents, teachers and friends are invited to attend.

IN A FINAL REVIEW of agency needs are members of the United Fund budget review committee, whose recommendations for needs of the fall campaign will be presented shortly to Fund president, Miss Nancy F. Reynolds, and board members for approval. Shown, left to right, are Donald H. Bagger, Francis A. Florin, Lee M. Hale, Samuel A. McCauley, Mrs. William F. Bass, Mrs. C. E. Childs Jr. and Vincent L. Fisher.

United Fund Committee Reviews Budget

Budget Review led by recommendations of the budget review committee of the United Fund will be presented to the board at its June meeting, according to an announcement by Fund officials today. The committee has completed a thorough study of the community financial needs of the 14 agencies the Fund supports through its fall campaign. Appointed by Miss Nancy F. Reynolds, president of the United Fund, the 'key budget review committee' has met with representatives of all members agencies of the Fund to determine their needs for Westfield United Fund support. Serving on the committee are Donald H. Bagger, Francis A. Florin, Lee M. Hale, Samuel A. McCauley (general campaign chairman), Mrs. William F. Bass, Mrs. C. E. Childs Jr. and Vincent L. Fisher. Their recommendations, if approved by the United Fund board, will determine the goal of the October campaign.

"Pot" Use

place curbing in residential areas. The town engineer has advertised for bids on work in the business area.

In reply to a question from Alan Chin of 9 Summit Ct., the mayor said that while the original installation of curbing is assessed against property owners, the town is responsible for its maintenance. This is not true, he added, in the case of sidewalks, whose maintenance remains with the owner.

Hearing on an ordinance restricting parking on the north side of E. Broad St. from Euclid to Mountain Aves. during the evening rush hours was postponed until the council's next meeting June 25, when a hearing also will be held on an ordinance introduced Tuesday night providing a fee of $4 for copies of the 39-page zoning ordinance of the town. This ordinance has recently been compiled into a looseleaf form which will permit the additions of amendments which may be approved in the future.

A public hearing to consider council approval of a Board of Adjustment resolution recommending an okay of construction of a shade house at Williams Florists, 524 Springfield Ave. also will be held at the June 25 meeting.

The renewal of a peddler's license to Mister Softee was approved, as were various bids for furnishing of road materials. The meeting was adjourned with a dedication to the late Sen. Robert Kennedy.

Mr. Everett also asked the council to consider his plight of a serious drainage problem in his neighborhood which, he said, is threatening the existence of his porch.

Garbe to Give $3000 in Aid To Students

Two scholarship awards have been established by the trustees of the Garbe Foundation of Scotch Plains, under its 1968 program. A $2,000 scholarship, payable $500 annually over four years, will be awarded to a boy graduate of the Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School Class of 1968.

George Antonak of Scotch Plains, a 1968 graduate of Pennsylvania State University and a 1964 recipient of this scholarship, will name the current year's recipient at the high school awards assembly.

Grants to previous recipients now attending college were also renewed: Timothy W. Brennan (Scotch Plains), $500 for his senior year at the University of Buffalo; David Rober (San Antonio, Tex.), $250 for his senior year at the University of Houston; Gary Zarillo (Scotch Plains), $500 for his junior year at the University of Rhode Island; David W. McEnerny (Watchung), $500 for his junior year at Rutgers; Donald Cohen (Fanwood), $500 for his sophomore year at Bucknell University and Gary Patnosch (Fanwood), $500 for his sophomore year at Montclair College under a grant of the Harry H. Pond Memorial Scholarship.

The second scholarship established under the 1968 program is in the amount of $1,000, payable annually over four years, and was awarded to Gerald Martin, a member of the 1968 graduating class at Union Catholic Boys High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Martin, 327 Sycamore Ave., Scotch Plains.

WESTFIELD STUDENTS AWARDED SCHOLARSHIPS to attend the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich., this summer include Robert Bouchal, Hubert Shen and Tom Davis. Unable to be present at the time the picture was taken was the fourth scholarship winner, Martha Schrader.

Four Students Selected To Attend National Music Camp in Michigan

Four Westfield students will attend National Music Camp, Interlochen, Mich., this summer, as recipients of scholarships presented by Anthony H. Gleason of Scotch Plains and Mrs. Neil M. Pierce of Westfield. The scholarships are presented in the name of the late C. W. Tremaine of Westfield, who founded the first National Music Week in 1924.

Tom Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs.

William Davis, 132 Wells St., a trumpet student, will attend with a Tremaine Scholarship. He is an eighth grade student at Roosevelt Junior High School where he is a member of the band, orchestra, and dance band. He is also a member of the Brass Choir at the Methodist Church, Westfield.

Hubert Shen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tung Yink Shen, 858 Willow Grove Rd., also the recipient of a Tremaine Scholarship, will further his studies on violin this summer at Interlochen. He is an eighth grade student at Edison Junior High School where he participates in the school orchestra and string quartet.

The two Gleason scholarships have been presented to Westfield Senior High School students. Martha Schrader, a junior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. William Schrader, of 312 Prospect St. Martha is a pianist, an accompanist for choral groups, a member of the Choir and All State Chorus.

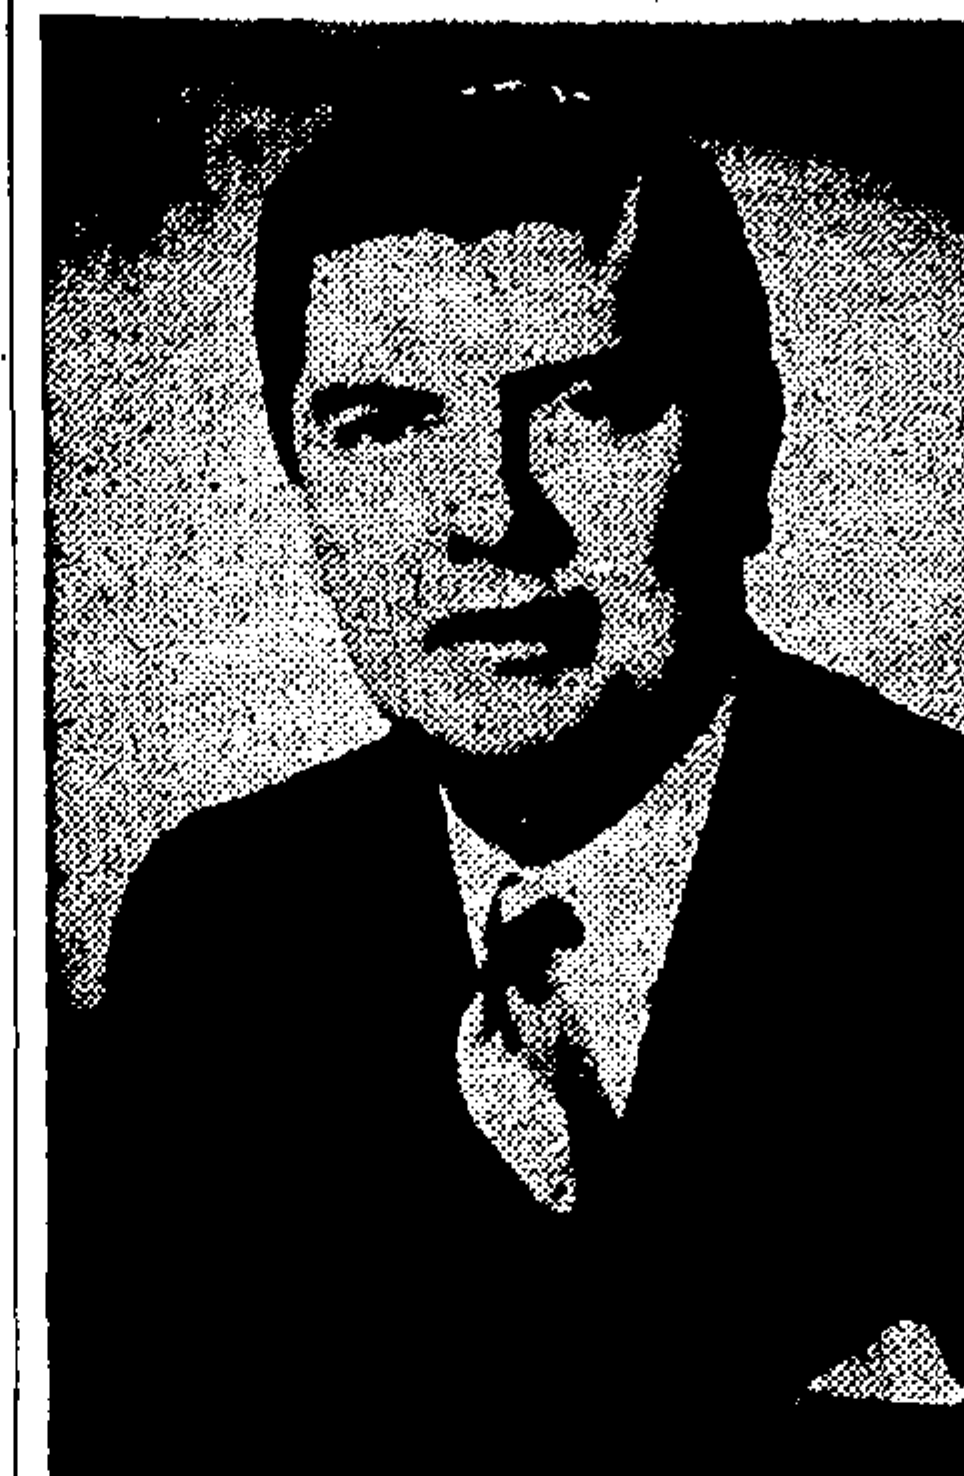

Robert Bouchal, also a junior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander W. Bouchal, 671 Shadowlawn Dr., will continue his studies at Interlochen, majoring on trumpet. Bob is a member of the High School Band and the Stage Band.

Appoint Stapp County GOP Finance Chairman

Richard School, Union County Republican chairman, today named Charles D. Stapp of Westfield, as the finance chairman for the Republican Party of Union County. Mr. Stapp is president of Kos Bros. of Rahway, and president of the State Bank of Rahway. He is a director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and received its brotherhood award for "Community Organization" in 1964 and its award for "Distinguished Service in the Field of Human Relations" in 1966.

The new financial chairman is a graduate of Stanford University, Birmingham, Ala., and served as an officer in the Navy during World War II.

Mr. Stapp has been active in the New Jersey Furniture Association, and was president for three terms and then chairman of the board. In 1967, he was elected president of the National Retail Furniture Association and, in 1968, became chairman of the board.

In naming Mr. Stapp, Chairman School said, "Republicans in Union County are honored to have Mr. Stapp accept this position. The organization in Union County has been in need of someone with Mr. Stapp's qualifications for some time. We are confident that he will do an outstanding job in helping members of the Republican Party realize their financial obligations to the organization."

Mr. Stapp lives at 8 Kimball Cir. with his wife, Nancy; his daughter, Stephanie, and his sons, Charles, Bobby and Brian.

Pete Heesch At Ft Monmouth

West Point Cadet Peter Heesch Jr., 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Heesch of 8 Folkstone Dr., will be among the members of the U. S. Military Academy's First Class (seniors) that will visit Fort Monmouth, N.J.

The U. S. Army Signal Center and School will host a visit of 820 cadets to Fort Monmouth today through Wednesday. During the summer preceding their senior year, cadets visit the different combat arm posts to help them select a branch of the Army for their future careers.

During the cadet visit to Fort Monmouth a program has been prepared which will provide an insight to the Signal Corps. The U. S. Army Electronics Command and the U. S. Army Signal Center and School will have activities, exhibits, and demonstrations to present a wide view of the varied and ever expanding role of communications-electronics in today's modern Army. Particular emphasis will be placed on the role of communications in Southeast Asia.

Demonstrations will be given by the 50th Signal Battalion (Airborne) from Fort Bragg, North Carolina. Signal communications sites will be set up by the Signal School featuring telephone operations, message centers, teletype facilities and trunking facilities through radio relay and cable. New signal equipment will be shown to the visiting cadets by the Electronics Command in a county fair type demonstration with emphasis on the tactical level.

OBJECTIVE possible growth for your investment.

Over-taxed?...

180 years ago, New York accepted the United States Constitution, and became one of the United States. There was so much opposition to the move that it was nearly defeated. Many landowners, fearing heavier taxes under the new union, fought against the acceptance of the Constitution. Regardless of today's national, state and local taxes . . . you can avoid being overtaxed with laundering this summer. Pan American's "personalized service" will get your shirts, pillow cases and sheets, tablecloths, and other washables immaculately clean . . . and pressed the way you like them. And don't forget our custom drape cleaning, and drycleaning services, too! You'll vote for Pan American's acceptance, because we never overtax even your linen fabrics, or your budget.

OPEN 7 A.M. to 7 P.M. Monday thru Saturday

B'nai B'rith To Install Fox

Joseph M. Fox will be installed as president of the Westfield-Mountain-side Lodge of B'nai B'rith Wednesday at Temple Emanu-El.

Mr. Fox is employed by the Merck Co. of Rahway, as director of corporate planning. He has held several positions in B'nai B'rith and in addition is active in temple affairs, currently serving on the board of trustees and as membership chairman of Temple Emanu-El. Mr. Fox resides with his wife Shirley and their four daughters at 865 Knollwood Terr.

Others to be installed during the evening include: Chester Fienberg, first vice president; Sanford Simon, second vice president; Norman Weisburd, third vice president; Stanley Daitch, chaplain; Larry Eisenbach, financial secretary; Robert Wolfman, recording secretary; Harold Shickman, corresponding secretary; Bernard Buchner, treasurer.

Also, members of the executive board: Dr. Leon Ackerman, Marvin Bressler, Julius Finkelstein, Dr. Mark Jacobs, Sanford Kaplan, Dr. Norman Lavy, David Levy, Jerome Linder, Herbert Ross and David Rubin. All men are from Westfield, with the exception of Dr. Ackerman, who resides in Elizabeth, Mr. Kaplan in Fanwood, and Mr. Levy and Mr. Ross who live in Mountain-side.

Program chairman for the evening will be Chester Fienberg. The installing officers will be Mr. Levy and Mr. Ross. Both men are past presidents of the lodge and are currently serving on the board of governors of B'nai B'rith District No. 3.

Prior to the installation of Mr. Fox, Mr. Daitch, the current president, will review the accomplishments of the year 1967-68. Entertainment will be provided by Miss Rosalie Marcus and Milton Wald, who will render a program of traditional Jewish folk songs, and by Miss Dorothy Goudy. This will be a return engagement by Miss Goudy, who sang at the lodge's recent citizenship award program honoring the local fire departments.

The program will start at 8:30 p.m. and refreshments will be served.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Herbert Gernert

Private funeral services for Mrs. Judith Cattell Gernert of 130 Linden Ave. were held in the Crescent Ave. Presbyterian Church Plainfield, Saturday. Mrs. Gernert died Thursday at Meadow Lakes, Hightstown, after a long illness.

Mrs. Gernert was born in Chicago but lived in Westfield more than 35 years. She was the widow of Herbert E. Gernert.

During and after World War II, she worked with local and national Office of Price Administration units in the nutrition management section.

In recent years, Mrs. Gernert was a member of the American Public Health Association, the National Council for Homeowner Services, the New Jersey Public Health Association, the New Jersey Welfare Council and the New Jersey Association for Mental Health.

She was a founding trustee of the Meadow Lake Presbyterian Home, Hightstown, and an honorary member of the National Missions of the United Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are two sons, Archibald C. of Lake Forest, Ill., and Herbert E. Jr. of New Vernon, N. J.; a sister, Mrs. Maynard Barnes of Washington, and four grandchildren.

In lieu of flowers, the family has requested donations be made to Bonnie Brae Farm for Boys, Millington.

Funeral arrangements were made by Gray's of Westfield.

Mrs. C. D. Kohlbecker

Funeral services were held Monday in Gray's Funeral Home for Mrs. Eva T. Kohlbecker of Ocean Grove. Mrs. Kohlbecker died suddenly Friday at home. She was the wife of the late Charles D. Kohlbecker.

Born in Baltimore, she had lived in Westfield for more than 50 years and in Ocean Grove the last seven years. She was a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist here and in Ocean Grove.

There are no immediate survivors.

Mrs. James Orr

Funeral services were held at Gray's Funeral Home at noon Monday for Mrs. Dorothy R. Orr, 51, of 1206 Christine Cir., Scotch Plains, who died Thursday in Muhlenberg Hospital.

Interment was in Sunset Memorial Park, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Orr was a member of Grace Orthodox Presbyterian Church in Westfield; the Suburban Club of Scotch Plains; the DAR of Westfield, and the Camellia Twig of Muhlenberg Hospital in Plainfield where she served as a voluntary worker.

Survivors include her husband, James F. Orr; two daughters, Mrs. Nancy O. Vilece of Little Falls and Mrs. Janet O. Kemp, Scotch Plains; and a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Zickgraf of Chester, Pa.

The family has announced that memorial contributions may be made to the Rev. James W. Price Memorial Fund, 7401 Old York Rd., Philadelphia, Pa.

John Cecchetti

Mountainside — John Cecchetti Sr., 67, of 153 Locust Ave. died Monday at home after a long illness. He was the husband of Mrs. Florence Taranta Cecchetti.

Born in Italy, Mr. Cecchetti came here 40 years ago. Before retiring in August, 1967, he was the head chef at the Halfway House, Mountainside, for 38 years.

He was a communicant of Our Lady of Lourde's Church, Mountainside.

Other survivors are two sons, John Jr. of South Plainfield and Mario of Three Bridges; three daughters, Mrs. William Guerriero and Mrs. Nicholas Riccio of Piscataway, and 10 grandchildren.

The funeral was held today at 9:15 a.m. from The Dooley Colonial Home, 556 Westfield Ave., and at Our Lady of Lourde's Church, Mountainside, where at 10 o'clock a high mass of requiem was offered. Interment took place in St. Gertrude's Cemetery, Woodbridge.

Lawrence S. Neeb

Lawrence S. Neeb, 60, died last Wednesday at his home at 745 Crescent Pkwy. Funeral services were held at Gray's Funeral Home on Monday.

Husband of the late Mrs. Rena E. Neeb who died in 1962, Mr. Neeb was born in Elmore, Ohio, and had lived in Westfield since 1932.

He retired from Bell Telephone Labs in 1963 after 39 years service. He was a member of Telephone Pioneers of America, the Frank B. Jewett chapter, the St. Paul's Men's Club and St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Westfield.

Survivors are a son, Lawrence C. of Chester, N.Y.; a daughter, Mrs. Joyce Smyth of Morgan Town, W. Va.; a sister, Mrs. Blanche Burmet of Bensenville, Ill., and two grandchildren.

Lawrence Williams

Lawrence Williams, formerly of Westfield, died suddenly Sunday in Paris, Ky. He was the husband of the former Helen Ryan of 306 Creekview Dr., Paris, Ky., who also had resided in Westfield. There are no other immediate survivors.

Mr. Williams had lived in Kentucky for 15 years after several years' residence in Westfield.

Funeral services were held yesterday in Paris, Ky.

Mrs. Della C. Bishop

Funeral services for Mrs. Della C. Bishop, 63, of 141 Myrtle Ave., were held Thursday in Piney Grove Baptist Church, Warfield, Va. Mrs. Bishop died Tuesday, June 8, in Muhlenberg Hospital.

Interment was in Piney Grove Baptist Church Cemetery. Mrs. Bishop was a member of that church until coming to this area five years ago.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Plinton Funeral Home.

Wesley J. Dallas

Funeral services were held Saturday for Wesley J. Dallas, who had lived in Westfield 15 years before moving to Rahway in 1953. Mr. Dallas, who had been employed by the Merck Chemical Co., died last Wednesday at his home.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mary Dallas; a daughter, Mrs. Gloria Robinson of Plainfield; a son, John Wesley Dallas of Rahway, two brothers, Henry White of Rahway, and Joe Dallas, Tampa, Fla.; three sisters, Mrs. Daisy Van Kline and Mrs. Pauline Isely of Rahway and Mrs. Mosina Bell of Tampa, and six grandchildren.

Services were arranged by the Plinton Funeral Home.

Mrs. Hazel G. Stump

Memorial services were held Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist Church for Mrs. Hazel G. Stump, 75, of 410 Summit Ave. Mrs. Stump died Thursday in Muhlenberg Hospital.

Mrs. Stump was born in Chicago, received her B.S. from Illinois Institute of Technology in 1937 and had taught in the Chicago school system 41 years, where she was also a teacher-librarian, before moving here 10 years ago.

Survivors include a son, Richard B. Stump of Westfield; a brother, Frank H. Pettie of Lombard, Ill., and three grandchildren.

William G. Hall Jr.

William G. Hall Jr., 52, of 111 Southeast Second Ave., Dania, Fla., formerly of Westfield, died Saturday in Dania, where he had lived for three months. He was the husband of Mrs. Ann Hall.

Mr. Hall was a fine adjuster with the General Adjusting Bureau.

Also surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Marcy Ostrowsky, Mrs. Patricia Cave and Miss Phyllis Hall; his mother, Mrs. Grace P. Hall, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at Johnson Foster Funeral Home, Hollywood, Fla.

Mrs. Grace Williams

Mrs. Grace Williams, formerly of Westfield, died Monday in New York City. Wife of the late Robert Storor Williams, she was the mother of Mrs. Henry A. Rusch Jr., and grandmother of Cecile, Henry III and Valerie Rusch.

Memorial services will be held at 4 p.m. today at the Association Residence for Women, 881 Amsterdam Ave., New York City.

Mrs. Anna Eismann

Funeral services were held Monday for Mrs. Anna Eismann of 242 Scotch Plains Ave., who died last Wednesday in Overlook Hospital after a short illness. She was 83 years old.

Mrs. Eismann was born in Brooklyn and lived in Westfield for the past 40 years. She was the widow of Joseph F. Eismann who died in 1956.

Surviving are two sisters, Miss Madeline Blanck and Mrs. Francis B. Freeman, both of Port Washington, L. I.; and a brother, L. H. Blanck of Freeport, L. I.

Funeral arrangements were completed by the Gray Funeral Home.

GIVE YOUR CHILD
A HEAD START

The child whose parents have been able to look ahead into his financial future can provide an important head start through life insurance. Premiums are much lower in childhood, and the youngster can be guaranteed that, regardless of his future health, he will be able to obtain insurance.

When a child is born many parents adopt a resolution to start a savings account for him and faithfully to put aside money in this manner. However, more often than not this resolution goes the way of so many good intentions.

On the other hand, life insurance steadily and comfortably creates cash values that can be called upon for so many needs: college, marriage, home or business purchase, to name a few.

Call me if you would like to discuss giving your child a head start.

Five Local YMCA Boys Among Nation's "Most Fit"

Led by Larry Huff's national championship, five Westfield YMCA boys were ranked in the top 10 nationally in the recently concluded National YMCA athletic achievement and fitness program. Pictured with the order of finish are, left to right, Mark Ramage, third; Larry Huff, first; David Chrono, fourth; Richard Gottlieb, fifth; Bruce Chrono, tenth.

The national Y program had 14,000 participants representing 178 YMCAs across the nation. The program consists of five events measuring an individual's strength, endurance, coordination and agility. A score of 500 is perfect for the program.

The top 10 scores in a YMCA represent the Y's team total for national ranking. Westfield scored 4819 to earn third place nationally. This was a 200 point increase from the eighth place Westfield placed in 1967 and a great improvement over the 5th spot in 1966.

All scores of 500 are placed on a projected scale to give the individual no limit to his scoring possibilities. Westfield's five nationally ranked boys and their scores are: Larry Huff, 538; Mark Ramage, 675; David Chrono, 618; Richard Gottlieb, 598; Bruce Chrono, 565.

Guest Artists In "Coppelia" Ballet

MARIA MARTELL

JAMES MCEVERS

Two Performances of "Coppelia" Ballet To Be Given Here Saturday at Edison

The Beverly Gruar School of Classical Ballet will present a complete performance of Leo Delibes' "Coppelia," a ballet-pantomime based on a story from the "Tales of Hoffman," Saturday at 2:15 and 8:15 p.m. at Edison Junior High School.

Featured in the cast of 55 from the Beverly Gruar School will be Marel Emerson in the leading role of Swanilda. Miss Emerson also has studied ballet at the National Academy of Ballet, New York City, and has been accepted at the Jordan College of Music of Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana, where she will major in dance.

Maria Martell of Westfield and James McEvers will be appearing as special guest artists in the roles of the Burgomaster and Dr. Coppélius, respectively. Although Miss Martell is an opera singer by profession, she has been studying ballet with Miss Gruar, and has performed the leading mezzo-soprano roles on ABC-TV, with the New York Opera Festival in Washington, D.C., and with various other opera companies. The wife of Dr. Holly E.

Mertel, Miss Martell is now "artist in residence" at Manhattanville College, where she directs the opera department.

Mr. McEvers has a broad background as a singer, actor, conductor, and administrator, and has appeared in numerous operatic productions and musical comedies. He has been the artistic administrator of the Pacific Opera Company in San Francisco, and will be the co-producer of the Starlite Theatre, Asbury Park, opening in July and offering a different musical each week. His role as Dr. Coppélius is one of pure mime throughout the ballet, affording many opportunities for his dramatic experience to enrich the performance.

Lawrence Welch, appearing as Franz, has had extensive training in the classical ballet under Vitale Fokine, Roger Pocaud, and Matt Mattox. Experience with amateur drama groups and work as a semi-professional magician have contributed to his skill in acting and pantomime. He has previously taken lead dance roles in the Community Players' production of "The King and I" and in Bucknell University's presentation of "Brigadoon."

The following dancers from the Beverly Gruar School have successfully passed auditions and are now preparing for the performance: Diana Daniel and Jackie Strub of Basking Ridge; Linda Hinchard of Berkeley Heights; Valerie Widuch of Clark; Nadine Braunfeld of Linden; Paris Bossert and Kathy Loftis of Mountainside; Karen-Ellen Chilton of Roselle Park; Laura Gilbert, Wendy Gales, Carla Hirschman, Terry Kaplan, Peggy Kopp, Patricia Koster, Elaine Metro, Deborah Prager, Cordelia Rust, Lisa Scudato, Janice Lopez, Inge Moe, and Kathleen Stanno of Scotch Plains; Karen Schram of Watchung; Bonnie Brower, Carolyn Cummings, Shaun Draper, Stacey Draper, Linda Enes, Bonnie Goldman, Barbara Gorman, Barbara Irion, Lindsay Kennedy, Nicola Kennedy, Susan Kennedy, Laura Linn, Kathy Martakoff, Deborah Miller, Meredith Miller, Susan Pague, Alison Rutter, Laura Saunders, Mary Sent, Joyce Shapiro, Dawn Shepard, Diana Shore, Linda Shore, Ann Sloane, Lisa Taylor, Maggie Townsend, Virginia Arity, Karen Van de Castle, Valerie Watts, Claudia Wood, and Cheryl Zollars of Westfield.

The set has been specially designed for this performance by George Van Hecke of Westfield. Beverly Gruar, director of the school, came to Westfield in 1960 to found her classes in ballet at the Community Players' Workshop. In 1963, she opened a new, professional-sized studio staffed by qualified teachers to further her objective of establishing New Jersey as a center for classical ballet training. She has conducted classes for students and professionals in England and New Zealand as well as in the United States.

Tickets for the performance may be purchased at the door. They are available now at Epstein's Bootery and The Bandstand. For further information, contact the Beverly Gruar School of Classical Ballet, 235 North Ave.

Week Needed For Address Change

One week's notice is requested of readers of the "Leader" who are changing their addresses. Address lists are made up one week in advance, and while it is possible at the last minute to send an extra paper to a new address, it is not possible to prevent the already addressed paper from going to the old address without the week's notice.

The "Leader" will be happy to forward papers without extra charge anywhere in the United States for those subscribers who are planning to be away for temporary periods.

In the early 1900's few cancer patients had any hope of cure. In the late 1930's fewer than one-in-five was being saved—that is, alive five years after first treated. A few years ago one in four was being saved. Today one cancer patient in three is being saved. The gain in lives saved amounts to some 46,000 patients each year.

What do you tell your child about God?

Or, more important, what do you tell yourself about God? Nothing has greater bearing on your well-being and your child's. The confidence you have in God's love helps your child feel God's presence. It helps him gain confidence in good. And it creates an atmosphere of harmony, which is so important in any home. The Bible, books, and periodicals in our Reading Room can help you research and prove for yourself the truth about God and man. And this can bless all the members of your family.

New Bell Tel. Film Available

A new color film, "Here Is Tomorrow" about the life of the telephone's inventor, Alexander Graham Bell, is now available for general public showings, now Jersey Bell announced today.

The 28-minute, 16mm documentary was filmed on location near the houses and laboratories where Bell lived and worked.

Bell, for example, designed and built the "White Dot," one of the first planes flown before the American public. He developed an early iron lung, called the "Vacuum Jacket," as a method of artificial respiration.

His experiments with the hydrofoil, with a forerunner of the X-ray—the telephone probe, and with voice transmission via light beams—being achieved today with lasers, laid the groundwork for many developments that are in the vanguard of scientific accomplishment even now.

In addition to the little-known facts about Alexander Graham Bell, "Here Is Tomorrow" examines the personal conditions—the hopes, fears and imperative needs—of 19th century America.

Schools, civic groups, service clubs and other organizations desiring prints of the film may arrange to borrow them, free of charge, from their local telephone business office.

Westfield Flotilla Trains Boatmen

Fifty-five persons have been awarded Coast Guard certificates for having successfully completed the course in basic seamanship and small boat handling conducted by the Westfield Flotilla of the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary at Bound Brook High School. Certificates were presented to those who after 10 weeks of instruction passed a written examination on the subjects covered in the course.

The course lectures were given by qualified members of the Auxiliary under the direction of Walter Andra, Flotilla training officer, as a public service in the interest of promoting safe boating.

Museum to Show Tennessee Film

Community Center To Present Cash Achievement Awards

Dr. Hubert G. Humphrey, board member of the Westfield Community Center Association, will donate cash achievement awards at the 8th annual dinner dance Thursday, June 20, at the Center. The awards are $25.00 for the seventh through tenth grades, and $50.00 for 11th grade.

The awards were initiated in 1964 to encourage Negro junior and senior high school students to apply themselves and to provide an incentive for achieving better grades to discourage drop-outs, and to motivate young people to think and plan for their future vocations.

Awards will be presented to individuals who have shown the most progress during the six marking periods in the school year. Priority will be given to students in the college preparatory course, business course and general course.

Individuals may apply for the awards by filling out an application at the Center. School officials and guidance counselors recommend students.

Summer WHS Opens June 19

Westfield Summer High School will be in session from June 19 to July 31, Monday through Friday, and one Saturday, June 22. Daily hours will be from 8:25 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Registration is scheduled for June 17 and 18 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. There is no charge for Westfield residents; class sizes permitting, non-residents may register at a cost of $35 per subject.

Review subjects will be offered in the following areas: Seventh and eighth grade English, English I, II, III and IV; seventh and eighth grade mathematics, mathematics grade 9 CP, algebra I and II, plane geometry; seventh and eighth grade science, general science, biology, chemistry; geography grade 7, U.S. History grade eight, U.S. History I and II, World History grade nine; French I and II; Spanish I and II; Latin I and II; German I and II.

Advanced subjects to be offered are: Art workshop, data processing, drafting workshop, how to study, personal typing, reading improvement, safe driving (students must be 16½ years of age by June 19, 1968), and wood shop.

Drug Abuse

"It looked like an interesting thing to do." "It was the thing to do." "I tried it for kicks and it developed into something else." "I was invited to a pot party and I felt I was part of a group."

Greenwich Village? No, these are Westfield High School students speaking via disguised tapes at an informative meeting last week on drug abuse in our community. These are some of the reasons our teenagers gave for beginning the use of marijuana; some of them still use it and many have continued their drug "experimentation" with other substances—"methadrine, benzedrine, amphetamine, dramamine, cough syrup, Carbona—little things like that," one student said.

Estimates of drug abuse in our town ranged from about one-third of the students in high school to as high as 65 per cent, according to the students who volunteered to present their views on the program.

A bunch of stupid kids? No, all of the students who have been involved in counseling following a school-police investigation of drug abuse last January are enrolled in the college preparatory course—and their IQs range from 117 to 141.

The cost of these students' marijuana use was up to $300.

Shocking? Yes.

Shocking enough to have the high school auditorium filled with about 1,000 concerned parents and townspeople.

Awareness of this problem could not come at a more appropriate time. A majority of the students' statements indicated that they began using marijuana last summer, and that pot is readily available here in town.

With the season approaching of too much time, too little to do, all of us must be vigilant. Miss Lois McCarthy, school social worker, said that for years parents have expected the church, police, schools, doctor, and outside agencies to solve the problems that arise. "We can't do your job," she told parents.

The town-wide meeting has accomplished its purpose to inform the community of the growing menace of drug abuse. Now it is up to the parents to carry the ball.

A World of Violence

The assassination of Senator Robert F. Kennedy is another tragedy to add to the growing list of despicable acts of violence in what is considered the most civilized and progressive country in the world.

The Leader joins with millions of others in extending its sympathy to the Kennedys who already have given more than any family could be expected to sacrifice for its country.

Violence in our country is the greatest single threat to society that this great nation faces. Yet while weak "anti-crime" and restrictive gun sales legislation are offered, the sorest need is harsh and meaningful law enforcement, and a greater meaning for the term "respect of the law."

We enter again the nervously-awaited "long hot summer." Are this country's law enforcement agencies prepared to halt demonstrations before they become riots and lead to more murder and destruction?

Are college students (who know the law better than most of us, yet in many instances have little or no respect for it) going to continue to gain "amnesty" and forgiveness for destroying property, illegal trespassing and other acts of violence?

Citizens either act within the boundaries of the law or perform illegally. There is a "right" and a "wrong." Regardless of individual philosophies or sympathies, there is no "in-between." By virtue of the "majority of the people," laws were designed for all, including the "minority."

Violence is destroying our cities, our wealth, our morality, our fine leaders, dedicated like Martin Luther King, Senator Kennedy and our late President Kennedy, as well as our stature among the nations of the world.

Law enforcement and respect of this country's laws are desperately needed now—before it is too late.

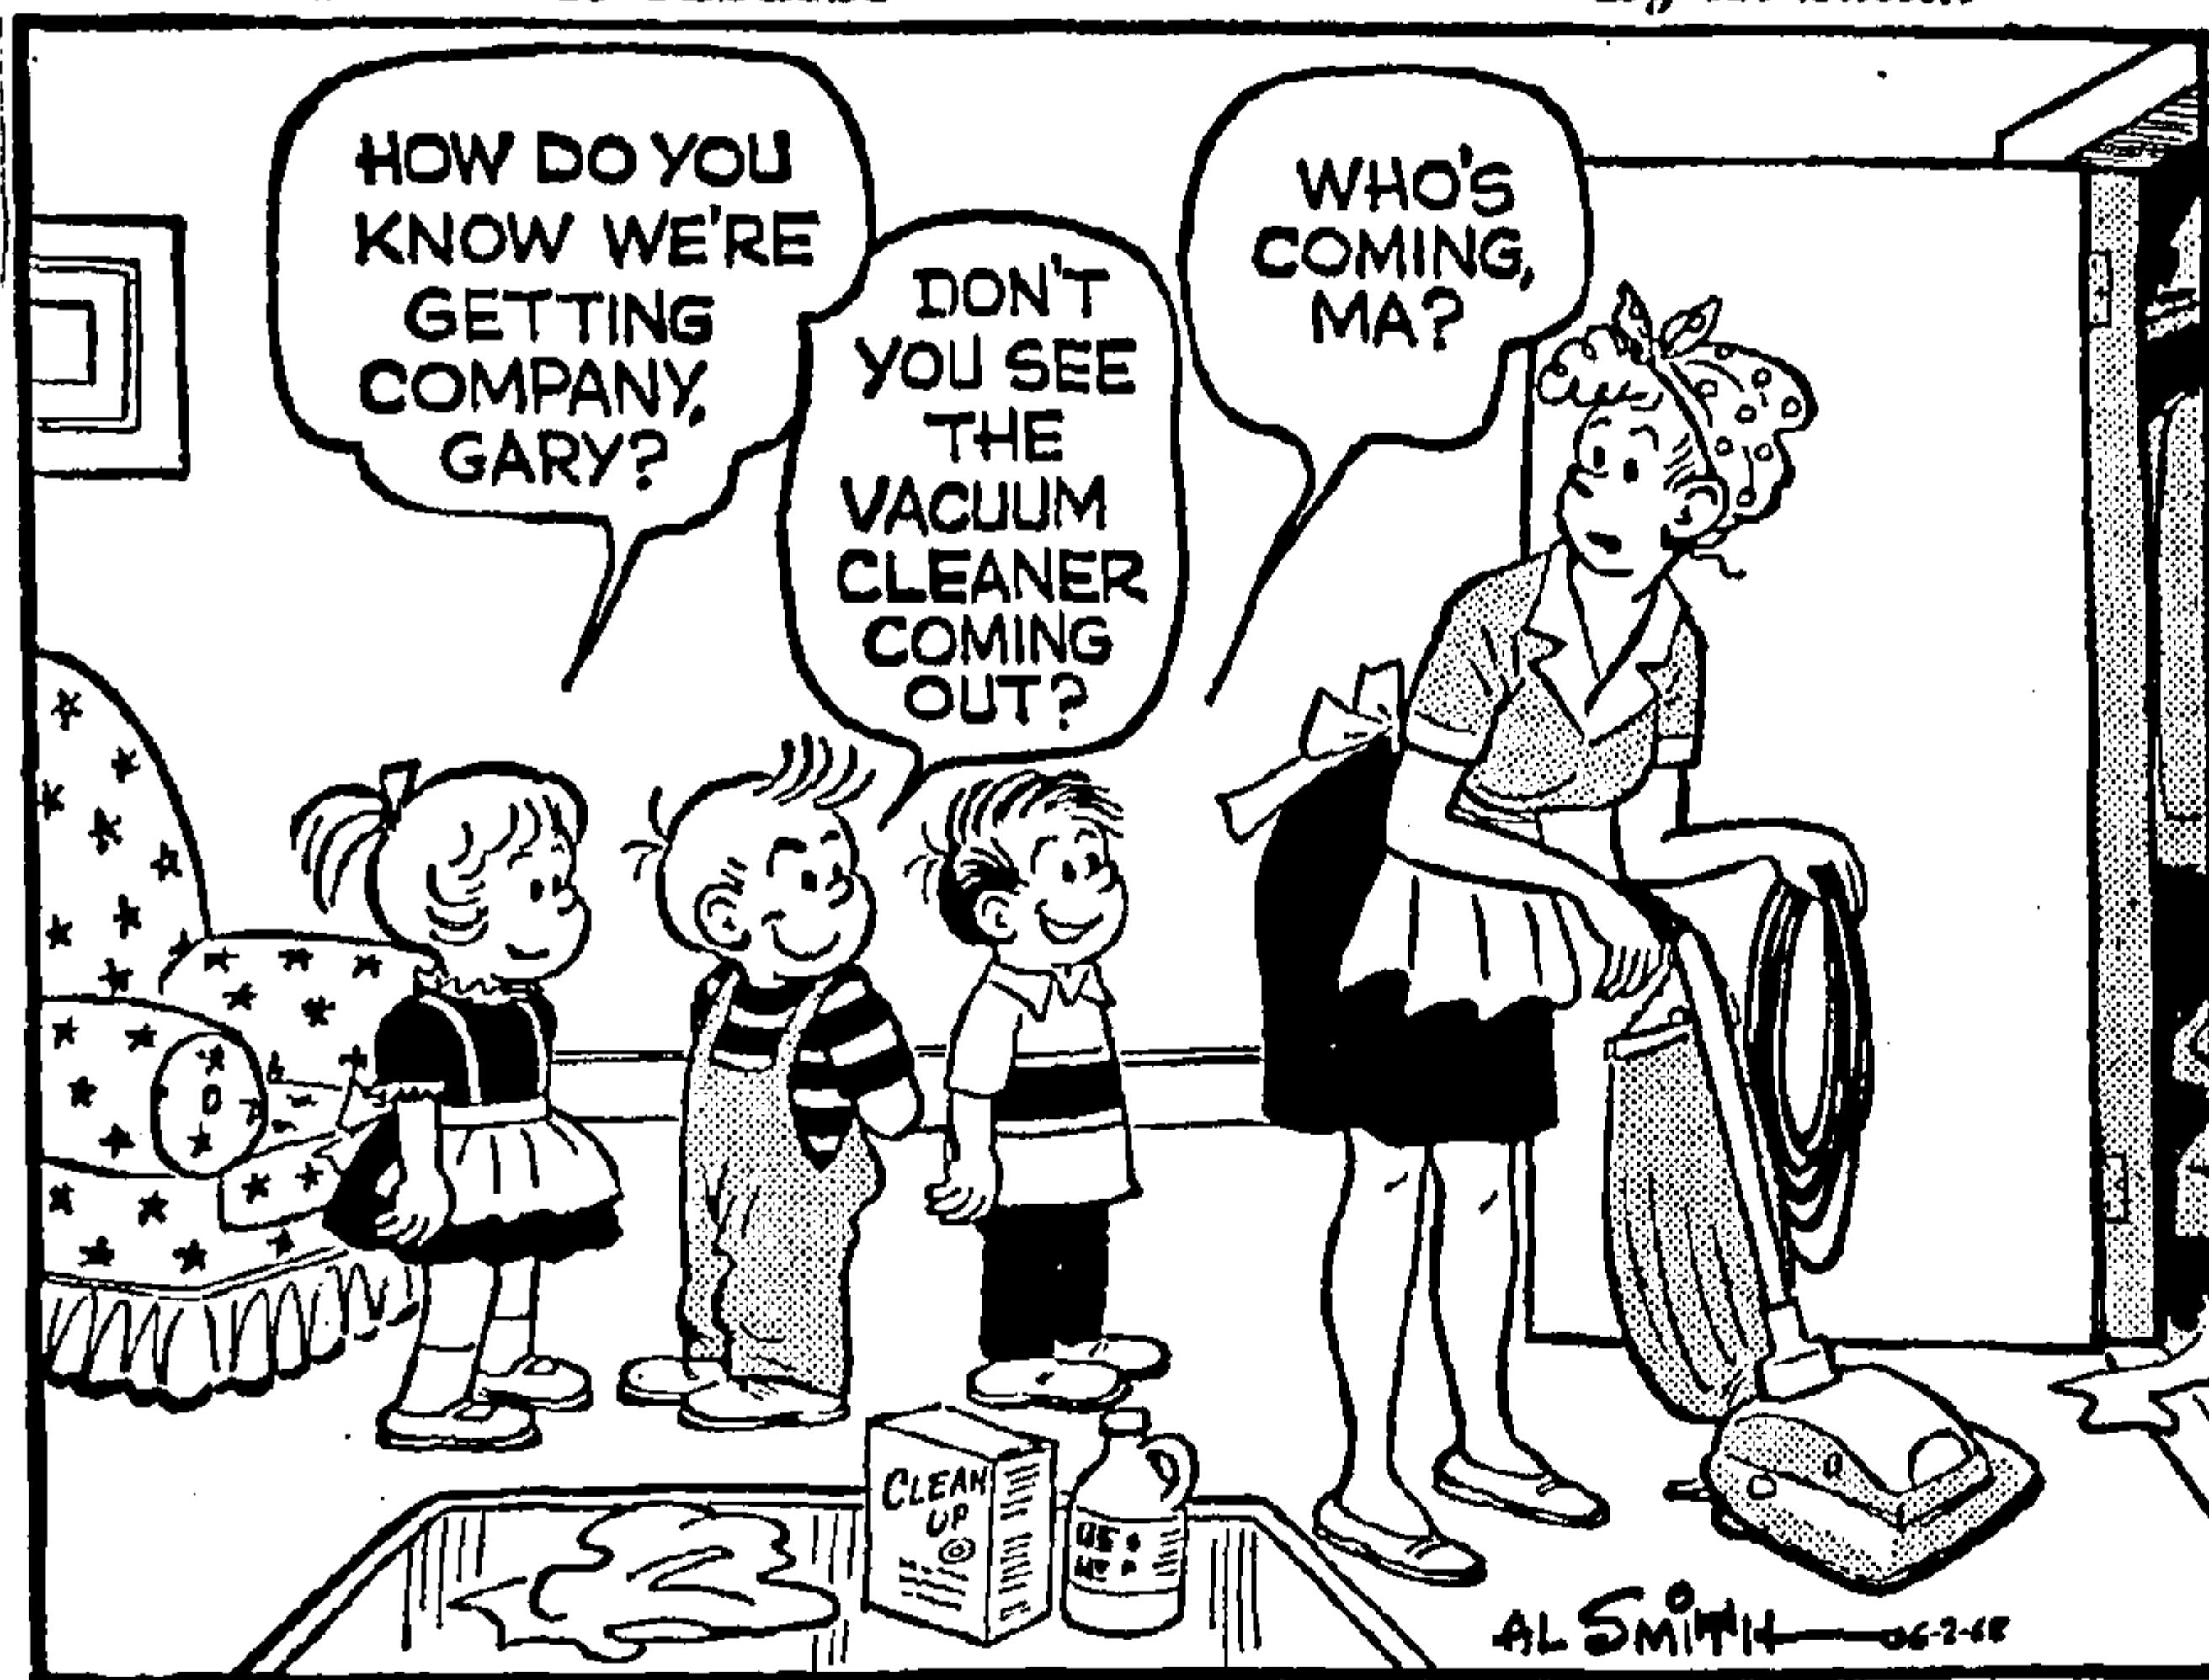

ANDERSON, S.C., FREE PRESS: (The) . . . White House staff, already the largest in history, continues to grow every month, according to U.S. News and World Report. The magazine reported the staff is so large "that even senior aides are unable to keep track of all the people called in to advise the President." And the . . . budget was said to have been cut to the bone."

HUNTINGTON, IND., HERALD-PRESS: ". . . The FBI's Uniform Crime Report released by the Department of Justice . . . was not necessary for public realization that crime is a daily threat to life, limb and the possession of property in America. It may help the public to realize, however, that the affliction of a steadily rising crime rate will continue until official and personal determination to stop it takes meaningful form."

OCALA, FLA., STAR-BANNER: "While economists debate the pros and cons of President Johnson's tax hike the man in the street looks on the proposal as a tough pill to swallow . . . Meanwhile, taxpayers remain hard to convince they're not already sending enough of their money to Washington."

Life In The Suburbs

Editor's Corner ELECTION REFLECTIONS

Probably one of the most unusual ballot performances ever played in Westfield was that of last week's Primary Election.

Name of the game was Gene McCarthy.

In most local primary elections, the number of Democratic votes cast in this Republican-dominated community is sparse. Between 10 and 20 in any one of our 22 election districts would generally be considered a high estimate. Many voters, of course, are not registered in either party and therefore are ineligible to vote in the primary.

But Primary Day 1968 was a different story in Westfield. And the Democratic Party has McCarthy to thank for their enormously swollen registration. It possibly may never again see such a turnout in a Republican community.

High man on the Democratic ticket was McCarthy-plugged Dean Heckel with the impressive figure of 891—341 more than the high "regular Democrat," Westfield candidate for Freeholder Arthur C. Fried.

Election workers had their hands full—a 25 per cent of registered voters response and an unprecedented write-in campaign highlighted by 1,003 write-ins for Richard Nixon by the Republicans and endorsement of a full local Democratic slate.

And the fact that most of us are unaccustomed to writing in anything is obvious. Residents' choices often were written in erroneously and therefore were discounted in the midnight tallying in the town clerk's office. Tom Stoudt, for instance, who easily won the Democratic nomination for his party's majority candidate, was similarly endorsed for everything from president, council, delegate-at-large and various other offices, despite advice given some loyal party members. Discrepancies also occurred among the Republican faithful in their write-in zeal. Election workers were snowed under with requests for aid and advice this Primary, but it seemed to provide an education for most.

Another unusual occurrence in the Republican Primary was the tremendous vote for its candidate for mayor, James C. Moran. It's practically unheard of, particularly in view of such a long ballot, for a candidate in position 33 to poll as high as the line leader, and what make the former councilman's tally of 2938 even more unique is the fact that the line leader (2946 votes) was the biennial favorite vote-getter Flo Dwyer.

WHAT'S NEW OTHER THAN ELECTIONS?

Have you heard about the newest teen-age caper? It's called "pool-hopping." While the "sport" (?) is obviously cleaner than the dwindling activity of sewer travels, we can imagine the hotter weather is increasing its popularity. It appears the score depends on how many pools can be conquered per diem (or per nightmen). We wonder what happens when the trespassers hit upon an unfilled pool—or if maybe they can't swim? . . .

What Happened?

One Year Ago . . .

Robert B. Berenson announces candidacy for Democratic nomination for Town Councilman from the Fourth Ward.

Sister Regina Cordis, who has been science teacher at Holy Trinity High School for 24 years, leaves to become principal of Marylawn of the Oranges, South Orange.

A Letter to the Youth of Westfield

Editor, Leader:

With all the bad publicity you seem to attract today, we would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you, leaders and workers alike, for all the good works and achievements you have accomplished. The majority of you are busy and involved in our community, working with your churches, with youth organizations of your choice, with your schools, as well as keeping up with your studies and going down on record as being the healthiest and smartest generation of our times.

Some say you are spoiled and rebellious . . . for the majority this is not so! We know the difficulties of growing up in today's society, the demands and responsibilities put upon you that your parents and their parents' never had to experience. You are smarter, more responsible, and more inquisitive than any other generation. This is progress and we are proud of you!

Youth leaders are recognized in many ways in Westfield. We too would like to say thank you for an outstanding job of leadership—but in particular, we would like to commend the average youth worker, who may or may not become a community leader, but who gives of his time, and of himself to make Westfield a town of which we can all be proud. To you all—a heartfelt Thank You!

On Kennedy Death

Editor, Leader:

In expressing his sympathy for Senator Kennedy's deplorable death, Senator McCarthy said the entire nation should share the blame for the death, and the violence in our land. I wish to take exception to this remark. I do not feel in the least to blame for this terrible murder. And I don't think 98 per cent of this nation's peaceful living citizens should either. I feel we have been handcuffed for the last 10 years watching with disgust and repulsion at the ridiculous changes made by our Supreme Court, to soften our laws in this land, thus encouraging this violence. Never mind the Roaring Twenties, we have the Violent Sixties, and they are worse.

I blame these very foolish men in the Supreme Court who 10 years ago started their reversals by taking our prayer from our public schools, then lifting the censorship from our movies, TV and books, thus giving our teenagers a new breed of unfit heroes to worship and copy. They have made changes that have freed criminals and tied the hands of our very able police so they cannot even arrest the guilty in a fast and sensible manner. There is now talk about removing Edgar J. Hoover and in his place will put a man who was known to have been at one time in the Communist party. E. J. Hoover, two years ago predicted that through the Du Bois Club and Students for Democratic Action (all pink) the campuses would be in an upheaval, and they are. These agitators should all be expelled from college permanently. It is a privilege to go to college and it should be kept that way.

I resent McCarthy's attitude toward Vietnam. His poetry is excellent, but his views are soft. We as a nation, cannot pull a curtain around us and lap up all our luxuries and ignore the sorrow in the rest of the world. We did not bring the sorrow to Vietnam, the Viet Cong had brought that in 20 years ago with murders and harassment. If we had not stepped in when we did, the communists would have Australia and the Philippines by now.

What we need now is a strong President and Vice President. Men who won't tell the police to turn their backs when people are looting (black or white), a man who will back this war with the proper arms and get it over with and have an honorable peace so these thousands will not have fought in vain. A man who will give power back to our police so we can walk our streets once more. A man who will encourage our congress to put out stronger laws to protect the innocent. We once were a proud nation, and a nation that the world looked up to. It is time for the pendulum to swing back so we can be proud once more.

Candidate Speaks

Editor, Leader:

Dear Residents of the First Ward: May I publicly thank the residents of Westfield's First Ward who supported me in the recent primary election. I urge all voters of the First Ward to join me in the larger task of electing Republican candidates in November.

To the Westfield Leader my sincere appreciation or reporting campaign news and coverage of candidates' press releases.

Advocates Discipline

Editor, Leader:

On Wednesday evening I attended the discussion on the use of narcotics in our Westfield schools. I was amazed that the chief interest was "Why do they do it?" "What's wrong?" "What are they striving for?" There was practically no time given on how to stop it or on discipline. They told how you should consult with the kids, find out what they want and discuss the problem with them. Results: Look at Columbia University.

In the army the Sergeant doesn't discuss a problem with a recruit. There is discipline and some times tough discipline, and when the boys come home they answer, "Yes Sir, and No Sir."

After two warnings through the schools, any child caught with marijuana should receive the maximum sentence. That would make it mighty discouraging for the 25 per cent under 18 years of age, if not all of them. Then it would not be worth it.

Write Legislators

Editor, Leader:

I am an American citizen—but the truth is that I'm not as good a citizen as I should, or must, be. I have opinions on many subjects that are vital to our country, and I believe that my opinions are just and morally right. But most of the time I'm either too trusting of those who represent me or too afraid that I won't express myself well or too busy or too lazy to let my legislators know what I believe. I need help from my fellow Americans to make me do what I know I should do. Therefore, I ask all of you to help me (and others who may be like me) by putting up a sign saying, "Have you written to your legislator today?" and providing stationery, pens and addresses of all legislators (state and national) in your houses of worship, stores, offices, factories, supermarkets, department stores, banks, restaurants, theater lobbies, libraries, etc. so that wherever I go I can be reminded of my duty as a citizen and I can fulfill it.

Disappointed

Editor, Leader:

I was disappointed to find that you had left out of your columns on the Board of Education meeting held June 4 the report on the response to the Negro student protests regarding alleged discrimination in the high school.

At a time when communications media can do so much to relieve frustrations by reporting what is going on, it is a shame that you have chosen not to do so.

The Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Law, reported that four student committees had been set up to investigate complaints and make recommendations. The committees cover the areas of Guidance and Discipline, Instruction, Athletics and Co-Curricular. Each has teachers for advice and is integrated racially.

Dr. Law reported that the committees had been organized over a month ago but no recommendations had been received.

Since the school year is almost over, I urge that the parents of students on these committees find out from them why there has been no apparent action.

After 47 Years—

"Boss" Graduates from WHS

Among the "graduates" from Westfield High School last night was one who has had the longest record of attendance at the senior high school in local history.

But he never flunked a course, neglected his studies or played hooky in his long career.

The "graduate" is Harold "Boss" Thompson, most familiarly known as the disciplinarian in the senior high school. He is retiring after 51 years of teaching, 47 of them at Westfield High School.

Hailed by thousands of students throughout the years as a champion of the "underdog," Boss Thompson often carried his love for students outside the classroom. One young boy whom he befriended was sentenced to 90 days in jail in Elizabeth. Believing in him as a "good boy," Boss took books down to the jail, helped him with his lessons and gave him his examinations. Then he and his wife took him with them to their Delaware camp and helped him straighten out. His faith paid off, the boy graduated and is now a successful married man with a family.

Students were not the only ones helped by Boss. When a school janitor became involved in trouble, Boss took him in and befriended him to keep him from jail.

One good turn deserves another, and Boss' students didn't forget all the help and guidance they had received during their school years. When Mrs. Thompson became ill and no longer could climb stairs, Boss decided to build an addition on his house. Bob Delo Russo, Barney Tomlinson, other teachers and former students all pitched in to help with the framing and in a few weeks of hard work the addition was roofed and ready for completion of the inside work by Boss and his brother, John, who together have put in 91 years of teaching. John Thompson, a drafting teacher at the high school, retired after 40 years with the school system.

Mr. Delo Russo, who will take over Boss' position as assistant principal next fall, credits his predecessor as a "guiding spirit" in his career. When Delo Russo enlisted in the service his senior year in high school, 1942, he had not completed the senior essay requirement for graduation. But he wrote it and sent it to Boss who helped him get his high school diploma.

Boss wrote to him in service, too, giving him encouragement then and later to go to college and become an industrial arts teacher like he himself had begun. "He was always there," Delo Russo recalls.

"We weren't always the best kids," recalls Hollis Plinton, another former student of Boss, "but one of the most important things I learned from Boss was that you can't do something in a minute."

Mr. Plinton, now a funeral home director, spoke of a table he was building for his mother in the shop class. "I thought I'd get it done in 10 minutes, but it took a whole year."

Boss meted out his own kind of discipline, Mr. Plinton said. Punishment was often extra work around the shop—not just cleaning, but dismantling and reassembling things. "We learned while being punished."

Mr. Plinton recalled that he drew the plans for the house he now lives in while a student in Boss' brother's drafting class.

"We called Boss 'bunny nose,' but not to his face of course!" he added. "He had an involuntary habit of twitching his nose."

"Harold always wanted to be a teacher," his brother John said. "Oswego State Teachers College was only 10 miles away from home, and we went by trolley. When we weren't in school we often worked on a big muck farm to make money."

John Thompson reminisced about an early incident in Oswego when his brother Harold volunteered to ride a stolen horse back to its owner 20 miles away. "Harold had never ridden before and was sore!" Boss Thompson has done a lot of things in his lifetime, but he is not an equestrian—he hasn't ridden since that 20-mile journey on a big old workhorse.

John recalled that Nestlé's candy bars may well owe its change in name from Peter Kehler Kohler Chocolates to his brother. "Harold was friendly with the owner's grandson, Peter, who was sent to this country from Switzerland to learn about America."

"When Harold got married he asked Peter to let the air out of tires on the cars he thought might chase him and his bride. Instead, Peter took the whole valve and Harold was really mobbed. The incident caused such a stir that everybody thought the name of the chocolate company was changed because of it."

Boss Thompson has obviously been enmeshed with his work as he has watched Westfield High School grow from 484 students in 1921 to the current 1,950. But not too busy for a hobby or two. He reputedly has the finest collection of Eastern and Western Indian baskets in the area, a hobby he became interested in because of another school principal, the late Charles A. Philhower, former superintendent of Westfield schools. "They'd often go down to dig for skeletons below Salem in South Jersey," his brother related.

Also interested in the hobby was another former principal, Dr. Neubauer, and they sometimes went to the Thompson camp on the Delaware.

About 10 years ago, however, when Boss and his wife were camping there, the river came up during the night when they were sleeping and they were surrounded by a foot and a half of water. They managed to get out by car and following their evacuation, the camp floated around and resettled itself in a different location. It has since been sold.

Perhaps best summing up Boss Thompson on his retirement are words expressed by the Board of Education when it said "Known affectionately as 'Boss' to the generations of students whose lives he has touched, he became known as a man who dealt with them fairly, demanded the best they had to give, and was their friend because he cared about them all."

Mr. Delo Russo, who will take over Boss' position as assistant principal next fall, credits his predecessor as a "guiding spirit" in his career. When Delo Russo enlisted in the service his senior year in high school, 1942, he had not completed the senior essay requirement for graduation. TAKE FIVE

By FRED W. KOKE

I see by the papers that down in Washington, some dissenter speaking on the recent Supreme Court decisions, said they are overturning convictions of obviously guilty persons on narrow technicalities and weakening law enforcement at a time of serious crime in our nation. And the dissenter? None other than Justice Hugo L. Black.

In these days of bangles, bangles and love beads, there are many far-out presents you can get Dad for his day. But the real show-stopper is (get this) "Your father's mustache and goatee." According to the ad they are made of the finest human hair, come in any color and can be trimmed and shaped for any look he wants. The cost? A mere $35 the set, and remember, Charlie, that includes some spirit gum. The better to stick them on, my dear.

I tell you, Ma, if you step out with Dad that make-up, plus a white Nehru jacket complete with chain and pendant, there will be many a raised eyebrow in your neck of suburbia, to say nothing of instant-gossip brewed by Mrs. Grundy and Company. Stuff like, "I saw it with my own eyes, she left the house with a strange man!"

Turtleneck sweaters have certainly got up in the world. Oldtimers, Senior Grade, can remember back when they were only worn by prize fighters doing road work. Come to think of it, road work has also made it big. Now it is called "jogging."

Post To Install Officers Tuesday

Installation of new officers of the Marvin-Wallberg Post No. 3, American Legion, will be installed Tuesday.

They include Grove C. Trimmer, re-elected commander; Jack Dries, senior vice-commander; Edwin Otto, junior vice-commander; Ruth Barrett, adjutant; Albert Mueller, assistant adjutant; Mary Walsh, finance officer; Titus K. Smith Jr., chaplain; Fred Malchow, judge advocate; and Fran Wollard, sergeant-at-arms.

"BOSS" THOMPSON

things in his lifetime, but he is not an equestrian—he hasn't ridden since that 20-mile journey on a big old workhorse.

John recalled that Nestlé's candy bars may well owe its change in name from Peter Kehler Kohler Chocolates to his brother. "Harold was friendly with the owner's grandson, Peter, who was sent to this country from Switzerland to learn about America."

"When Harold got married he asked Peter to let the air out of tires on the cars he thought might chase him and his bride. Instead, Peter took the whole valve and Harold was really mobbed. The incident caused such a stir that everybody thought the name of the chocolate company was changed because of it."

Boss Thompson has obviously been enmeshed with his work as he has watched Westfield High School grow from 484 students in 1921 to the current 1,950. But not too busy for a hobby or two. He reputedly has the finest collection of Eastern and Western Indian baskets in the area, a hobby he became interested in because of another school principal, the late Charles A. Philhower, former superintendent of Westfield schools. "They'd often go down to dig for skeletons below Salem in South Jersey," his brother related.

Also interested in the hobby was another former principal, Dr. Neubauer, and they sometimes went to the Thompson camp on the Delaware.

About 10 years ago, however, when Boss and his wife were camping there, the river came up during the night when they were sleeping and they were surrounded by a foot and a half of water. They managed to get out by car and following their evacuation, the camp floated around and resettled itself in a different location. It has since been sold.

Perhaps best summing up Boss Thompson on his retirement are words expressed by the Board of Education when it said "Known affectionately as 'Boss' to the generations of students whose lives he has touched, he became known as a man who dealt with them fairly, demanded the best they had to give, and was their friend because he cared about them all."

Mr. Delo Russo, who will take over Boss' position as assistant principal next fall, credits his predecessor as a "guiding spirit" in his career. When Delo Russo enlisted in the service his senior year in high school, 1942, he had not completed the senior essay requirement for graduation. But he wrote it and sent it to Boss who helped him get his high school diploma.

Boss wrote to him in service, too, giving him encouragement then and later to go to college and become an industrial arts teacher like he himself had begun. "He was always there," Delo Russo recalls.

"We weren't always the best kids," recalls Hollis Plinton, another former student of Boss, "but one of the most important things I learned from Boss was that you can't do something in a minute."

Mr. Plinton, now a funeral home director, spoke of a table he was building for his mother in the shop class. "I thought I'd get it done in 10 minutes, but it took a whole year."

Boss meted out his own kind of discipline, Mr. Plinton said. Punishment was often extra work around the shop—not just cleaning, but dismantling and reassembling things. "We learned while being punished."

Mr. Plinton recalled that he drew the plans for the house he now lives in while a student in Boss' brother's drafting class.

"We called Boss 'bunny nose,' but not to his face of course!" he added. "He had an involuntary habit of twitching his nose."

"Harold always wanted to be a teacher," his brother John said. "Oswego State Teachers College was only 10 miles away from home, and we went by trolley. When we weren't in school we often worked on a big muck farm to make money."

John Thompson reminisced about an early incident in Oswego when his brother Harold volunteered to ride a stolen horse back to its owner 20 miles away. "Harold had never ridden before and was sore!" Boss Thompson has done a lot of things in his lifetime, but he is not an equestrian—he hasn't ridden since that 20-mile journey on a big old workhorse.

John recalled that Nestlé's candy bars may well owe its change in name from Peter Kehler Kohler Chocolates to his brother. "Harold was friendly with the owner's grandson, Peter, who was sent to this country from Switzerland to learn about America."

"When Harold got married he asked Peter to let the air out of tires on the cars he thought might chase him and his bride. Instead, Peter took the whole valve and Harold was really mobbed. The incident caused such a stir that everybody thought the name of the chocolate company was changed because of it."

Boss Thompson has obviously been enmeshed with his work as he has watched Westfield High School grow from 484 students in 1921 to the current 1,950. But not too busy for a hobby or two. He reputedly has the finest collection of Eastern and Western Indian baskets in the area, a hobby he became interested in because of another school principal, the late Charles A. Philhower, former superintendent of Westfield schools. "They'd often go down to dig for skeletons below Salem in South Jersey," his brother related.

Dr. Silber Named Merck Director

Dr. Robert H. Silber of 781 Hyslop Ave. has been appointed director of clinical biochemistry on the research staff of Quinton Co., a division of Merck & Co., Inc.

Dr. Silber, who has been with Merck since 1941, had served as an associate director for the Merck Institute for Therapeutic Research, and was a senior investigator in drug metabolism in the firm's research laboratories prior to the recent appointment.

In making the announcement Quinton Co. president Dr. Harry J. Robinson cited Dr. Silber's contributions to the biological and clinical evaluation of cortical steroids.

Dr. Silber is a graduate of Washington University in St. Louis where he earned his undergraduate degree in chemistry and his Ph. D. in physiology and biochemistry.

He is a certified member of the American Board of Clinical Chemistry, serves on the board of editors of the Journal, Clinical Chemistry, is a fellow of the New York Academy of Sciences, a fellow of the American Society of Clinical Chemistry, and a member of the American Society of Biological Chemists and the Endocrine Society. He has served on Quartermaster, United States Pharmacopeia, and National Research Council committees and has been Chairman of the Gordon Conference on Food and Nutrition.

Dr. Silber is a native of Hermann, Missouri, and is married to the former Ruth Bender. The couple has three children.

Lt. Hewitt Ends Police Course

Lieut. Floyd Hewitt of the Westfield Police Department will be graduated at 1 p.m. tomorrow from the "Operation Combine" class at the New Jersey Police Academy in Sea Girt.

The two-week courses, which have been designed to help municipalities cope with problems concerning prevention and control of civil disturbances, stress the importance of community relations. Lectures in this area are given on community affairs programs, juvenile relations, press relations and related subjects aimed at the prevention of disorders.

The remainder of the curriculum, dealing with the control phase, features lectures, demonstrations and projects on: Law (national, state and local); Intelligence; operational and logistical planning; leadership.

Leaders Honor Mrs. H. S. Boyle

At a Westfield Girl Scout Community Association meeting at the Methodist Church recently, Mrs. Robert Thlen, chairman, presented a scroll signed by the many leaders and other adult Girl Scout workers who have appreciated the efforts of Mrs. H. S. "Marge" Boyle, troop leader, consultant and day camp unit leader, among other things, throughout the years. Her husband has been transferred to Wilmington, Del. About 40 people were present.

Mrs. Charles B. Mayer, president of the Rake and Hoe Garden Club, and Mrs. William R. Patton Jr., chairman, explained the summer program of town beautification. Twelve planters will be placed around town by efforts of the mayor's beautification committee and the Rake and Hoe Garden Club, and will be kept watered and trimmed twice a week by Girl Scouts and Brownies. They have brought plantings for one box, including red geraniums and white petunias. A dwarf Alberta spruce will be tried in one box to see if the spruce could be planted on a permanent basis.

Mrs. Thien announced the election at the recent Washington Rock Council meeting of three Westfield adult scouts to the council nominating committee. They are Mrs. H. P. Clements, Mrs. G. A. Strothers and Mrs. Ruth V. Hill.

"Information" is dead.

Long live "Directory Assistance"

We called this telephone service the wrong name. So, many people called for the wrong reasons.

Information Operators spent most of their time looking up numbers in local directories. They've also been called for train schedules, baseball scores and whatnot.

So, we've changed the name of this service. It's now Directory Assistance.

We think this new name is much better. After all, that's what the service is for. To assist you with numbers not in your directory: numbers outside your directory area and new numbers not yet listed.

How do you call Directory Assistance? The same way you called Information before it died.

But whenever you have to call Directory Assistance, it's always helpful to have a pencil and your personal phone list handy so you can jot down the number. Then, you won't lose time when you want to call the same person again.

If you'd like a handy booklet to keep your personal numbers in, or a directory for other areas you call often, just call your Telephone Business Office. We'll be glad to send them to you.

Directory Assistance: to help us serve you better.

Boro PTA Gives Awards To Two H. S. Seniors

Two students have been selected by the Governor Livingston Regional High School scholarship committee as the recipients of the annual Mountaineer PTA award. They are Mary Lou Young and Victor Tom. Mary Lou is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Young of Wyoming Dr. She plans to attend Douglass College in the fall. Mary Lou has been active at Governor Livingston where she was a member of the Future Teachers Club, the Spanish Club, the CYO and the Color Guard.

Victor Tom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ping Tom of Mountain Ave., and plans to attend Massachusetts Institute of Technology. During his high school career Victor received numerous honors. He placed first in the Regional Math Contest in 1966. In 1967 he won the Rensselaer Math and Science Award. He was also representative to North Jersey Junior Science and Humanities Symposium. Both students are members of the National Honor Society.

The PTA award is for $200 to each of the students. Three Mountaineer youngsters have received PTA scholarships for instrumental music study in summer school. The students who have been selected to be honored for their achievements are: Ann Schmitz, Sandra Smith and Laura Geiger. Ann is a sixth grade drummer at Deerfield. Sandra is in the fifth grade at Echobrook and is a violinist, and Laura is a fifth grader at Beechwood and plays the cello.

Heart Fund Issues

Final Appeal

At a special meeting of the fund raising committee, Dr. Harold Wasserman, president of the Union County Heart Association, made the following statement:

"With dedicated persons such as Mr. and Mrs. S. Zamballa of Westfield as chairmen of fund raising for our community we are sure that many Westfield residents have not had the opportunity to donate to this most important health cause.

"This is through no fault of the chairmen who have topped their own efforts for the past two years, and therefore since our year end will be June 30, we urge any resident who wishes to help bring Westfield over the top again to mail their contributions to either Mrs. Zamballa, 40 Woodbrook Cir., or to the chapter headquarters, 98 West Jersey St., Elizabeth.

Mrs. Zamballa added her urgent request to all volunteers who have not mailed in their envelopes to follow the same example or to take to the Westfield Post Office where she has maintained a post office box for the convenience of residents.

The total raised in Westfield this year falls short of $700, and the president is confident that this goal will be reached if all who have not had the opportunity to give mail in their contributions.

The chapter is hopeful of continuing the proper instruction of all medical and para-medical personnel in the life saving cardio-pulmonary resuscitation which has to date brought forth some excellent results. The Westfield Rescue Squad has already been trained by members of the chapter professional volunteers on this committee.

The primary prevention project against rheumatic fever has been most successful for the past year and the chapter hopes to continue this project along with many others and the pursuit of research projects in which this chapter has been one of the foremost in the state.

BENEATH the sheltering palms in Vietnam, troopers of the First Cavalry Division take cover and return fire while on patrol.

300 Honor Dr. Albert Meder Jr., Retiring from State University

Dr. Albert E. Meder Jr. of Westfield who has been a member of the Rutgers faculty since 1926 and who has played an influential role in the revision of mathematics education, was honored Thursday night upon his retirement from the state university.

About 300 persons gathered in the Rutgers University Commons to pay tribute to Dean Meder, who has served the university through the years as professor of mathematics, as acting dean of both Douglass College and the Graduate School of Education, as secretary of the board of trustees and of the total university and, most recently, as vice provost and dean of the university.

Main speakers at the dinner were Dr. Mason W. Gross, Rutgers president, who praised Dr. Meder's long service to the state university and Rev. Laurence McGinley, S.J., former president of Fordham University who has long been associated with Dr. Meder in the activities of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Universities. Father McGinley spoke on Dr. Meder's community and educational activities.

Dr. Meder was presented with an inscribed Revere bowl and a check, as well as a scrapbook of testimonials from many of the organizations he had worked with over the years.

Among those who sent personal testimonials was Dr. Robert C. Ockler, a former president of Rutgers, who wrote of Dr. Meder, "I have always found him to be a man of quick and reliable mind and great integrity, with a sense of humor and a gift of good companionship."

Many organizations sent official tributes to Dean Meder on the occasion of his retirement. President John J. Kinella of the N. J. Association of Mathematics Teachers cited him at the dinner for contributions to the growth of the Association.

Other organizations which congratulated Dr. Meder were the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the Educational Testing Service, the Union College, Bloomfield College, the School Mathematics study group and the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Praise was sent also by the American Mathematical Society, the National Commission on Accrediting, the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the New Jersey Department of Education, the Board of Managers of the New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute, the New Jersey Association of Colleges and Universities and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

The National Council credited Dr. Meder with playing an important role in the revolution in mathematics teaching which has occurred in the U. S. during the past decade. For a year and a half starting in January, 1957, Dr. Meder went on leave from Rutgers to serve as executive director of the Commission on Mathematics of the College Entrance Examination Board.

A graduate of Columbia University, he also received the A.M. degree from Columbia and has been presented with an honorary L.L.D. by Fairleigh Dickinson University and an honorary L.H.D. by Bloomfield College. For many years he was treasurer and trustee of the American Mathematical Society.

A resident of 508 Saker Pl., Dr. Meder has served as chairman of the trustees of Bloomfield College and as a trustee of Union College.

Slocum Wins Wings In AF Graduation

Second Lieutenant Frank H. Slocum Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Heidl Slocum Sr., of 843 Mountain Ave., has been awarded U. S. Air Force silver pilot wings upon graduation at Randolph AFB, Tex.

Lieutenant Slocum, a graduate of Westfield Senior High School, received a BS degree in 1966 from Clemson (S. C.) University, where he was commissioned upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program. He is a member of Nu Epsilon and Iota Lambda Sigma.

52,200 lives were forfeited on America's highways in 1967, according to an annual survey by The Travelers Insurance Companies. In addition, 4,200,000 persons were injured.

Why we don't call the Volkswagen on the left the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

Just because the Volkswagen on the left looks like a station wagon, some people have concluded it actually is the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

How rash. Its storage capacity is much too modest. (Even with its seats folded down it's just 42 cu. ft.)

Its seating capacity is much too conventional. 4 passengers is nothing to write home about.

And the size of that door in the back is much too commonplace. (A mere 42" by 25.4")

But unstarling as these features are in a station wagon, they're very startling in a sedan. And that's exactly what this squared-off car on the left is. A regular sedan for people who irregularly need a little station wagon.

We call it the Volkswagen Squareback.

Now look at the monster on the right. Its loading capacity is an incredible 176 cu. ft. It can seat up to nine—yes, nine—very tall passengers. And it doesn't content itself with just having a door in the back. It also has a kind of sliding side gate that measures an awesome 3 1/2' by 4'.

Now that's what we call a station wagon. Settled?

Are You Paying Too Much for Hot Water?

If you have anything but an OIL-FIRED hot water heater, you are paying too much for your hot water. An oil-fired hot water heater provides more than enough hot water to heat a two bathroom house at a cost of approximately 12 cents a day. Oil-fired hot water heaters are safe, too, because oil can't ignite until it's inside the burner. Call us TODAY for a free estimate of your hot water needs. You can buy new oil-fired heating equipment on EASY TERMS!

GIRL SCOUTS

The Westfield Girl Scouts of all levels engaged the Washington Rock Council Camp Lou Henry Hoover at Middletown for last week-end. Fifth and sixth grade Junior Scouts, Cadettes (junior high), and Seniors of high school level were included. A total of 343 girls attended. The theme for the week-end was "Happiest is going camping."

The program and menus were planned by the girls and included practice of camping skills, a nature walk guided by a conservationist from Stokes State Forest, and a talk on survival in case of emergencies by Mrs. Ruth V. Hill, who formerly taught this to her Wing Troop in Westfield. Also included were campfire programs and Sunday religious services. A Sabbath service was held Friday evening, and the Sunday service was conducted by Rev. Carl Curtin of the Stillwater Methodist Church.

The girls travelled by bus, each girl packing her own equipment. Camp director for the week-end was Mrs. J. R. Codner. Assisting her were Mrs. H. P. Clements, Mrs. H. S. Boyle, Mrs. Ruth V. Hill, Miss Ida Mae Trenner and a registered nurse. The girls went by troops accompanied by leaders.

Girls from senior troops who acted as aides to help with younger girls were: Troop No. 606, Mary Ball, Denise Blackwell, Nancy Culwell, Peg Hogan, Claudia Marks and Sue Perry; Troop No. 701, Joanne Behrens, Elsie Bianco, Georganne Borumko, Peggy Conroy, Susan McSweeney, Pat Nagle, Joanne Nelson, Ellen Nugent, Margaret Savoca, Ellen Senf, Barbara Town and Susan Tyler.

Senior campers who assisted in programs at the Saturday night campfire were Pat Eagan, Melanie Hess, Peggy Manahan, Susan Mottley, Karen Town, Pat Trainor, Judy Bolen, Rita Hand, Laurie Ann Hart, Elaine Iazzetti, Lorraine MacDonald, Judy Yankielun, Kathy Wright, Pat Wright, Ann Klein, Linda Sweeney. Color guards for the morning and evening flag ceremonies were chosen from the campers.

Saturday afternoon the senior troops practiced and passed requirements for water safety in preparation for a canoe trip they are planning later in the season. They used the canoes on the lake to pass the "hip test" required for the canoe trip.

Many Brownie Troops of Westfield are having "fly-up" ceremonies at this time of year. This ceremony, an important one in Girl Scouting, occurs when going from third grade to fourth grade, when a girl becomes a Junior Girl Scout and learns the G.S. promise and laws and what badges and the challenges are. They already have learned the importance of service to others and the rudiments of camping through cookouts. Usually older girls from Junior troops are present to explain the cooperation and fun that go along with more serious programs. Also a "bridging" ceremony may be the method of explaining employed by older girls.

Old Guard Concludes Season's Indoor Program At YMCA

The final formal meeting of the Old Guard of Westfield was conducted by Director Sherman Willard at the YMCA Thursday with approximately 150 members present. After Chaplain Meier's invocation a moment of silence was requested in memory of Senator Robert Kennedy. Andrew Ball acted as recording secretary in Joseph Connolly's absence. The former announced the birthdays and Ralph Rustin, Jacob Halsey, Eugene May and George Pease were serenaded.

Waldo R. Mowen, the nonagenarian father-in-law of Walter Staats was greeted as a special guest. Returned members included John Loeffler from Bermuda, Henry Engelfried from Hawaii, John Moore back from upper New York state and Stanley Waugh who had returned from Winnepegaukee, N. H.

Bowling continues on an informal basis. Top scores were turned in as follows: Hugo Gold 247, William Gray 201 and Daniel McFadden 191.

E. C. Ewon, general secretary of the YMCA, spoke in an amusing and light vein expressing his best wishes to the membership for a pleasant summer and looking forward to continuing a pleasant association next fall.

Summer events at Tamaques Park were outlined by Vice Director Colby. They include the N. J. State Shuffleboard, northern district tournament last Monday and yesterday. Sponsors are the Millburn and Westfield Recreation Commissions and Old Guard chapters. As a host responsibility the Westfield Old Guard will provide refreshments. On Tuesday the local chapter will hold a Ladies Day. Shuffleboard and other games will be played with prizes to the lucky ladies. It is planned to have a hobby display under the direction of William Willis, and refreshments will be served.

Paul Sutton, while leading in group singing, soloed in new versions of old favorites. A film concluded the meeting.

Alumni Elect President, Honor Former Resident

Joseph T. Ambrose of 549 Lenox Ave. has been elected to a three-year term as a member-at-large of the executive committee of the Rutgers Alumni Association.

Honored at the association's annual meeting was a former Westfield resident, Charles H. Brower, now of Brielle, who was given the Alumni Trustees Award for noteworthy service.

Union Faculty Members Attend Workshop

They are Prof. John Siburn, chairman of the biology department; Prof. Augusto Salvatore, member of the mathematics department, and Mrs. Mary Richter, assistant librarian.

Grant Becomes Lockheed Pres.

Lockheed Aircraft Corporation's board of directors has announced the election of Alan J. Grant of 93 Barchester Way as president of Lockheed Electronics Company, Plainfield. He will succeed Daniel J. Gribbon, whose retirement was announced.

A native of Chicago, Mr. Grant received bachelor and master of science degrees in electrical engineering from the Illinois Institute of Technology, where he also taught as an instructor of electrical engineering. Mr. Grant is a graduate of Northwestern University's Institute for Management. He actively served in the U.S. Navy from 1944 to 1946 and was a member of the Naval Reserve until 1956.

Before joining LEC, Mr. Grant has been president of the guidance and control systems division of Litton Industries and vice president and general manager of the Computer Division of North American-Automatics.

Grant is a member of the board of directors, New York chapter, National Security Industrial Association and serves on the executive committee of the Institute of Navigation. He also is active in Scouting, serving as assistant Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 172 in Westfield, and as a member of the executive board of the Watchung Council.

Grant lives here with his wife, the former Margaret Stewart, and their three children.

The club, under a committee headed by Mrs. M. E. Lemmerhirt, has obtained 1,510 signatures of residents on petitions and the endorsement of 103 local business firms favoring the establishment of a borough postoffice. The petitions have been forwarded to New Jersey congressmen for action.

Heckel To Speak Before ACLU

Riots in the cities—student revolt on our campuses—poor people marching on Washington—black power—are these all manifestations of a new revolution in America? If so, can such a revolution be peaceful or will it inevitably lead to bloodshed and destruction?

Dean Willard Heckel of the Rutgers University Law School will discuss this very critical question with the Union County Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union at its annual meeting at the Unitarian Church of Plainfield, 724 Park Ave., Plainfield, on Tuesday, June 18, at 8:30 p.m.

Dean Heckel, who is an acknowledged expert in constitutional law will discuss the crises in our society and the overall impact of the new forces manifesting themselves today. He will draw on his own personal involvement in this area as a law professor and as a member of the Board of Trustees of the New Jersey State Civil Liberties Union.

In addition to Dean Heckel's address, there will be reports on the past and current activities of the Union County chapter in the area of civil liberties and a discussion of plans for concrete action in the future in facing this mounting crisis. All persons interested in the preservation of civil liberties, whether member of the ACLU or not, are invited to attend.

Still Openings in Center's Day Camp

Edward J. Smith, ACSW, executive director of the Westfield Community Center, has announced that there are still openings in the Center's Day Camp conducted at Northover Camp There are two four-week periods: July 3-31 and Aug. 1-28. A 50 per cent less than cost fee is charged.

Northover Camp is situated on an 83-acre site and nestles in the rolling hills of the Watchung Mountains. New facilities designed along early American historical themes include Pilgrims Settlement, Colonial Hamlet, Pennsylvania Dutch Community, Indian Village and a Western Town.

The Day Camp is for children seven to 11 years of age, with swimming in two Olympic-size swimming pools, arts and crafts, sports, nature study, music, drama, hiking and social activities.

To make camp life more exciting and interesting, activities are planned along historical themes to feed the minds and fire the imagination of campers. With the aid of proper paint and period "props," the buildings recall an important era in early American history. These serve as an educational focus for the programs.

An all-inclusive planned program of athletic, recreation and educational activities are designed to make the campers strong and healthy as well as develop their prowess in athletic activities and give them mental stimulation in the performing arts, nature study, and arts and crafts. Each camper is encouraged to develop his own talents and individuality while enjoying happy moments of social growth through group participation.

Winners in three categories were announced and new officers were installed at the annual banquet of the Plainfield Camera Club at the Clara Louise Restaurant Friday evening.

Mrs. Lorraine Armstrong, 212 S. Euclid Ave., won top honors in the Class A color slide division, and tied for first in the nature division with Conrad J. Kitz, 2219 Westfield Ave., Scotch Plains. In Class A, Mr. Kitz and Helmut E. Grimm, Warren, shared second place honors.

Winners in Class B were George W. Bogdan, North Plainfield, first place, and Norman Lacombe, 4 Clinton La., Scotch Plains, runner-up. William C. Child, 819 Shadowlawn Dr., was installed as president of the club for the coming year, succeeding Mrs. Armstrong, George W. Bauer, 635 Highland Ave., is the new first vice president, and Mr. Bogdan is the new second vice president. Officers re-elected were: William Middaugh, Plainfield, treasurer; Miss Bernice Post, recording secretary; and Mrs. H. H. Bethune, 2231 Greenside Pl., Scotch Plains, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Armstrong, former president, was installed as a trustee.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jubon, Millstone, presented a nature and travel show entitled "Cross Continent."

Boys' Town, Italy, Aided by Dinner

Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Patrick Carroll-Abbing, the founder and president of Boys' Towns of Italy, spoke to a capacity crowd of approximately 600 in the Ballroom of the Winfield Scott Hotel in Elizabeth recently. The occasion was the 17th annual benefit dinner-dance sponsored by the Union County Committee for Boys' Town under the general chairmanship of Mario G. Mirabelli of Scotch Plains and Salvatore Spezzano of Roselle.

A noted author, lawyer and leader of the resistance in Italy during World War II, the Irish-born Monsignor spoke to his audience of the past and present citizens of Boys' Towns.

Mario G. Mirabelli, the general chairman of the committee, welcomed guests and paid homage to the late Arthur Venneri of Cranford, the founder and first president of the Union County Committee.

Mayor Thomas G. Dunn extended the official welcome of the city of Elizabeth. Toastmaster for the evening was State Senator Nicholas S. LaCorte. Honored guests included State Senator Francis X. McDermott of Westfield.

In recognition of their years of selfless devotion to the cause of homeless children, Monsignor Carroll-Abbing bestowed honorary citizenship to Boys' Town of Italy upon Louis J. Dughi, a prominent Westfield attorney; Miss Esther Larussi of Scotch Plains and Salvatore Spezzano of Roselle.

Elected to Head ICITA Ad Group

Appointment of Melville Morris of 820 Lawrence Ave. to serve as the president of ICITA was announced at the sixth annual conference of the International Chain of Industrial and Technical Advertising Agencies, held in Madrid, Spain, last month.

ICITA is the world's only industrial advertising agency network and is aimed at providing competent industrial and technical advertising and marketing services in the world's major markets. Representatives from member agencies from 20 countries were present at the meeting. For the first time an observer was invited from the Communist bloc, who represented the Polish government agency in Warsaw.

Mr. Morris, executive vice president, Black-Russell-Morris, Newark, one of the ICITA founders and current president, was re-elected for a one year term.

In addressing the group, Mr. Morris pointed out the expansion which ICITA has made in six quick years. "By May, 1969 when we hold our meeting in New York City, I anticipate that we will have doubled our membership," said Mr. Morris.

"In the United States we presently have four members, each covering a specific industrial area. We are extending membership to leading industrial agencies so that every region in the United States will have an ICITA member who can offer and public relations assistance to nearly every country in the world.

We also anticipate that ICITA will expand its membership abroad, through naming multiple-members in 'feeder nations' such as England and Germany and we also foresee the day when the industrial advertising requirements of our members and their clients will also necessitate the opening of a Secretariat in Europe."

Stewart To Aid Employment, Training of Disadvantaged

Scotch Plains—Joseph Stewart of 2107 Gallagher Ave., a senior staff advisor in the technology sales division of Esso Research and Engineering Company, is heading an unprecedented effort by the American Chemical Society to strike at the root causes of today's urban crisis—unemployment and lack of education.

Mr. Stewart, an ACS member for more than 30 years, is chairman of a special six-member subcommittee established by the ACS committee on chemistry and public affairs. The formation of the subcommittee represents a unique attempt by a scientific society to mount an organized offensive to train and employ disadvantaged persons.

Mr. Stewart, who works for Esso at Hersh Tower in Elizabeth, is organizing a high-level conference for early July in Washington to seek specific ideas, programs and courses of action by which colleges and universities, the chemical industry and the ACS with its nation-wide network of 169 local sections can move to carry out the new programs.

At the conference a binational panel of about 30 persons, some from outside the chemical community, will study existing training and education programs and attempt to develop employment opportunities in the chemical industry. The Society's local sections will provide information on successful local programs for the panel's consideration.

"If the American Chemical Society is to play a meaningful role in alleviating the plight of the disadvantaged citizens of our nation, we must not only provide leadership in attacking the problems, but also show concretely how an organization such as ours can contribute," Mr. Stewart said. "Although alone we cannot solve the basic problem, we can set an example that can be adopted by other scientific societies."

Mrs. Hull Heads Agency Group

Mrs. Audrey Hull has been elected president of the N. J. Association of Private Employment Agencies.

For the newly elected officer, leadership in professional and business groups is an established habit. Last year she served as president of the Scotch Plains Businessmen's Association and heads her own company, A-1 Business and Employment Service, with offices in Scotch Plains, Union, Caldwell, New Brunswick and Princeton, the first of which was opened in 1962. She is a director of the National Employment Association, a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Elizabeth, and is active in the Chambers of Commerce of New Brunswick, Union, Summit, Princeton and Trenton.

A graduate of Packard Business College in New York, she began her business career as a secretary and in six years rose to a position of executive responsibility. Mrs. Hull then retired to devote complete attention to her growing family and became a Scotch Plains resident in 1958. In this area she sensed a need for an employment agency capable of offering the type of services that in her previous business experience she, as an employer, had wished to receive.

In private life, Audrey is Mrs. George Hull, and is the mother of four sons. Mr. Hull is with the Lehigh Warehouse and Transportation Co.

Psychiatric Clinic Aids 746

The Union County Psychiatric Clinic's professional staff held conferences with 746 persons in April in its handling of its cases of emotionally disturbed children and adults.

Executive Director Benjamin H. Haddock of Fanwood announced today that the clinic now has 530 children and 369 adults under the care of its professional psychiatric staff.

"During the month we added 14 children and three adults to our caseload," Mr. Haddock said. "But," he added, "because of a need for additional personnel, we still had a waiting list of 52 children and 41 adults at the end of the month's period."

The breakdown of the waiting list by the area communities served by the clinic, with the number of children first, follows: Fanwood, 2, 0; Mountainside, 3, 1; Scotch Plains, 3, 0; Westfield, 2, 0.

During the month the clinic provided 1877 hours of staff personnel service.

Special Summer Rates At YMCA

The Westfield YMCA will again offer special summer membership rates to accommodate those who will be spending the summer in Westfield or adjacent communities according to a report released today by Jay F. Roehlin, chairman of the Y's program committee. The special membership is for a period of three months, from the date of registration.

Summer memberships, according to Mr. Roehlin, are available to boys (fourth grade and up) and men, and represent a substantial saving over the annual rate. Programs in which members may participate include all gymnasium and swimming activities as scheduled. For boys, the special summer membership will satisfy the membership requirement for Day Camp, or for Camps Wawayanda or Speers. Enrollments for the summer will continue through the month of June. A conversation feature of the summer membership permits full credit for an annual membership prior to the expiration date.

Further information may be obtained by calling the YMCA during the day or evening.

Pfc. William S. Worth Private Worth Sees Duty In Vietnam

Pfc. William S. Worth, son of Mrs. Betty Sieben-Morgan Worth of Manasquan, and the late George C. Worth Jr., is on duty in Saigon, South Vietnam.

Private Worth is serving in combat with the Army's 27th Artillery. He has been in Vietnam since March. The serviceman was inducted in October, 1967, and received training at Fort Dix and Fort Sill, Okla. He was employed at Princeton University at the time of his induction.

Private Worth is the grandson of the late William Sieben-Morgan of Westfield, and the nephew of Robert J. Sieben-Morgan, Westfield and Englewood, Fla.

More than 4,200,000 persons sustained injuries in automobile accidents last year. Driver error, according to The Travelers Insurance Companies annual statistics, was responsible for more than 80 percent of the 1967 highway casualties.

Lieut. Slocum Wins AF Wings

Lieut. Heidi Slocum Jr., USAF, has completed the 53 week undergraduate pilot training at Randolph Air Force Base, Tex., where he received his wings upon graduation as a pilot May 31.

He will now attend six to eight weeks further training in survival tactics and piloting before departing for foreign service.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Heidi Slocum Sr. of 843 Mountain Ave. attended the ceremonies at San Antonio and were also entertained by his flight commander, Maj. Robert Turnbaugh, USAF, and Mrs. Turnbaugh, former Westfield residents.

SCALE MODEL of famed 11th Century Cathedral took seven years to build and cost $187,500. Workman adds finishing touches at Dusseldorf, Germany, park.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Guter are now at home at 645 Memorial Ave., which they purchased from Mr. and Mrs. William Myers. The sale of this multiple listed property was negotiated by Paul M. Hoffmann, Jr., of Peterson-Ringling Agency, Scotch Plains, members of the Westfield Board of Realtors.

No Opposition In Boro Election

In the Mountainside Republican primary last week Councilman Wilfred Brandt, seeking a new term, received 621 votes while John Hechtle polled 615.

In the Democratic line, Robert Scharow received 135 and John H. Palmer Jr., 132 votes.

Republicans elected to the municipal committee were: District one, Frank Torma and Lucille S. Reel; District two, William O. Van Blarcom and Marguerite G. Linke; District three, John H. Keenan and Mary Taylor Jabanowski; District four, Gilbert Pittenger and Edith Speeth; District five, Gerald S. Dilemuth and Mary Ann Chaddon. There were no contests among Republicans in any of the districts.

The listed Democratic committee men and women were also unopposed. They were: District one, John E. Medeville and Gertrude Palmer; District two, Peter Tausic and Patricia Kaplan; District three, Bernard R. Holleran and Rose Holleran; District four, Horace R. Cardoni and Virginia Heize and District five, Joseph J. Styra and Dorothy Lombard.

Major Doneski Graduates

Scotch Plains—Army Major Bernard J. Doneski III was named an early graduate of the Army Command and General Staff College May 31 at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan. His wife, Mary Louise, lives at 227 Hawthorne St.

The early graduation allows the armor officer to report to his next duty station prior to the regular exercises to be held June 7. The 10-month course trains officers from the United States and over 50 allied nations to perform duties as commanders and general staff officers in divisions or logistical commands. They receive instruction in the function of the general staff at corps and Army levels.

Major Doneski received his commission through the Reserve Officers' Training Corps program at Seton Hall University, South Orange, N.J., where he received his A.B. degree in 1957. A veteran of service in Vietnam, the major holds the Bronze Star Medal, Air Medal, and the Army Commendation Medal.

CHANGE OF SCENE—A traditional damask sofa takes on a gay new look for summer with fit-like-upholstery slipcovers in a boldly flowered linen cooled in tones of ice blue, green and violet. Toss pillows, ferns and plenty of chalk white accents freshen a room for summer, too. Custom slipcovers by Koos Bros., the Furniture Showplace, Rahway.

Quick-Change Artistry With Koos' Slipcovers

Look into the quick-change artistry of slipcovers if you want a change of scene, a new color scheme or a whole style in your living room.

You can go from Contemporary to Colonial, from French to Italian to Spanish with slipcovers . . . turn a hodge-podge of mis-mates into a coordinated grouping, or breathe new life into a tired but much-loved chair or sofa. With well-fitting custom-made slipcovers you can "buy" a whole new living room suite for a relatively small outlay.

Sidney Meyer, Executive Director of Koos Custom Department, advises slipcover shoppers to consider the effect they want to achieve when choosing slipcover fabrics and styles.

If you want to change periods, both fabric and style must be considered. A traditional blue damask sofa, for example, takes on Early American charm when covered with a warm Colonial print or a rich midby tweed, skirted all around in generous box pleats. A bright floral or stark black and white herringbone gives the same sofa a right-now Contemporary look . . . especially if the cushions are covered in the new "soft-edge" styling without welting.

By all means, advised Mr. Meyer, be adventuresome with color. Slipcovers are inexpensive enough that you can afford to indulge that urge for parrot green or Pop-Art pattern . . . they're removable and cleanable so you might even consider the pale pastels or off-whites that look so luxurious but might be impractical as upholstery. Busy homes with young children, however, can make a life easier with dark rather than light colors . . . tweeds and prints rather than solids. And, of course, a stain-resistant finish is absolutely required . . . Scotchgard, Zepel or one of the other "rain coat" finishes that causes spilled liquids to "bead up" on the surface until wiped away with a sponge. Color and pattern can be used to improve balance in 2 rooms, Mr. Meyer pointed out. A quiet, dark pattern minimizes the size of a monster chair or enormous sectional. A large room that seems "underfurnished" looks cozier when upholstered pieces are covered in bright, bold prints.

There's such a fresh new freedom in decorating today, Mr. Meyer observed! You can mix and match colors and patterns in a way unheard of a decade ago! Many homemakers love these imaginative combinations but they're afraid to trust their own instincts in putting them together. To make the choice easier many fabric manufacturers have created groups of go-togethers: curtain, drapery and slipcover fabrics in tweeds, prints, plaids, plains and patterns that look good together without seeming contrived.

League of Women Voters
League Lines will start a Legislative Quiz in this column which will be continued for two more weeks.

True or False?
1. Most bills are voted on after full debate of the issues.
2. Since the N.J. Constitution prohibits "special interest" bills, no such bill are introduced or passed.
3. Standing committees meet regularly to consider bills.
4. A daily record, similar to the Congressional Record, is kept of the proceedings of the N. J. Legislature.
5. Printing of the Legislative Index, Legislative Manual and Legislative News is done by a state government printing office.
6. Most members of the 1968 Legislature have had some previous legislative experience.

Answers to the Quiz.
1. False. A majority of bills are non-controversial in nature and are passed without debate.

2. False. Special interest bills are framed in general language to circumvent the Constitutional ban on such bills.

3. True. However, due to lack of space and time they are scheduled to meet at half-hour intervals—a limitation which precludes meaningful consideration of the substance of the bills.

4. False. Only records of votes on bills are kept.

5. False. They are published by three different private firms.

6. False. 72 out of 120 members are serving in the Legislature for the first time.

Drug Charges Bring 5-7 Yr. Jail Term

Leon P. Lane, 26, of 636 North Ave., has been sentenced to a state prison term of 5-7 years on a plea of guilty to a charge of possession of narcotics.

Union County Judge V. William DiBuono gave Lane a concurrent 5-7 year term on another charge of unlawful possession of heroin and a concurrent 2-3 year term for receiving property stolen from Commercial Typewriter Co., 431 Central Ave. Lane had been out on $2,000 bail on the first charge, filed on his arrest Sept. 14, when he was arrested again May 15 on the heroin and stolen goods charges.

Sermon of the Week

"GOD LOVES THE POOR"

By Jim Fowler, Minister
Echo Lake Church of Christ

Let me quote without comment the cry of a poor woman exactly as told to her interviewer, C. E. Jackson Jr. of the "Christian Herald," and printed in the January, 1968 issue. Then I shall quote passages from the scriptures which speak eloquently to our situation—even out of antiquity.

"You're asking me what poverty is?"
"Well, you've come to the right person, but you won't enjoy my definition. Are you sure you want to hear it? Here I am, dirty, smelly, with no proper underwear beneath this rotten dress. I don't know about you, but the stench of my teeth makes me half sick. They're decaying, but they'll never be fixed. That takes money."

"Listen to me without pity, now, for I don't need your pity; it won't help me at all, and it won't help my hungry children. Listen to me with understanding, if you can. Try to put yourself in my dirty, wornout, ill fitting shoes—if you can stand the thought, much less the reality. What is poverty? Poverty is getting up every morning from a dirty and illness-stained mattress—a hard lumpy mattress. Sheets? There are no sheets. They have long since been used for diapers, for there are no real diapers here, either."

"That smell? That other smell? You know what that is—plus sour milk and spoiled food. Sometimes it's mixed with the stench of onions cooked too often. Onions are cheap. We're like dogs in that we live in a world of smells and we've learned to identify most of them without searching them out. There is the smell of young children who can't make it down that long path at night. There is the smell of the filthy mattress. There is the smell of food gone sour because the refrigerator doesn't work. I don't remember when the refrigerator did work. I only know it takes money to get it fixed. And there is the smell of garbage. I could bury it, but where would you get a shovel without money?"

"Poverty is being tired—dog tired, all the time. I can't remember when I wasn't tired. When my last baby came, they told me at the hospital that I had chronic anemia caused by a poor diet, a bad case of worms, and the need for a corrective operation. When they told me about my condition, I listened politely. The poor are always polite you know. We can't afford to offend those who might decide to be big and give us something. The poor always listen, for there really isn't much we can say. If we were to say anything, it might prejudice somebody with a little money. What good would it do to say there is no money for iron pills, better food, or necessary medicine? The idea of an operation is frightening even if you have the money required. If I had dared, I would have laughed. Who would have taken care of my children while I was in the hospital for a prolonged period?"

"The last time I left my children with their grandmother was when I had a job. I came home to find the baby covered with fly specks and wearing a diaper that had not been changed since I left. When the dried diaper was removed, bits of my baby's flesh were on it. My middle child was playing with a sharp piece of glass and my oldest was playing alone at the edge of an unprotected lake. On my job I made $22.00 a week. A nursery school charges $20.00 a week for three children. So I had to quit my job. Poverty is dirt. You may say in your clean clothes and coming from your clean house, 'anybody can be clean.' Let me explain housekeeping with no money. For breakfast I give my children grits with no margarine, or corn bread made without eggs or oleo. For one thing, that kind of food doesn't use up many dishes. What dishes there are, I wash in cold water. No soap. Even the cheapest soap has to be saved for washing sheets I use for the baby's diapers. Look at these cracked, red hands. Once I saved up for two months to buy a jar of vaseline for my hands and the baby's diaper rash. When I had the money and went to buy the vaseline, the price had gone up two cents, and I didn't have another two cents."

"Poverty is staying up all night when it is cold to guard the one fire we have; one spark striking the newspaper we have on our walls would mean my sleeping children would die in the flames. In the summer, poverty is watching the gnats and flies devour my baby's tears when he cries, which is most of the time. I've never been in an air conditioned house. I've just heard folks talk about them. Our screens are torn, but we pay so little rent that I know it's foolish even to talk about getting them fixed. Poverty means insects in your food, in your nose, in your eyes, and crawling over you while you sleep. Poverty is children with runny noses, even in the summer. Paper handkerchiefs take money and you need all your rags for other things. Antihistamines are for the rich."

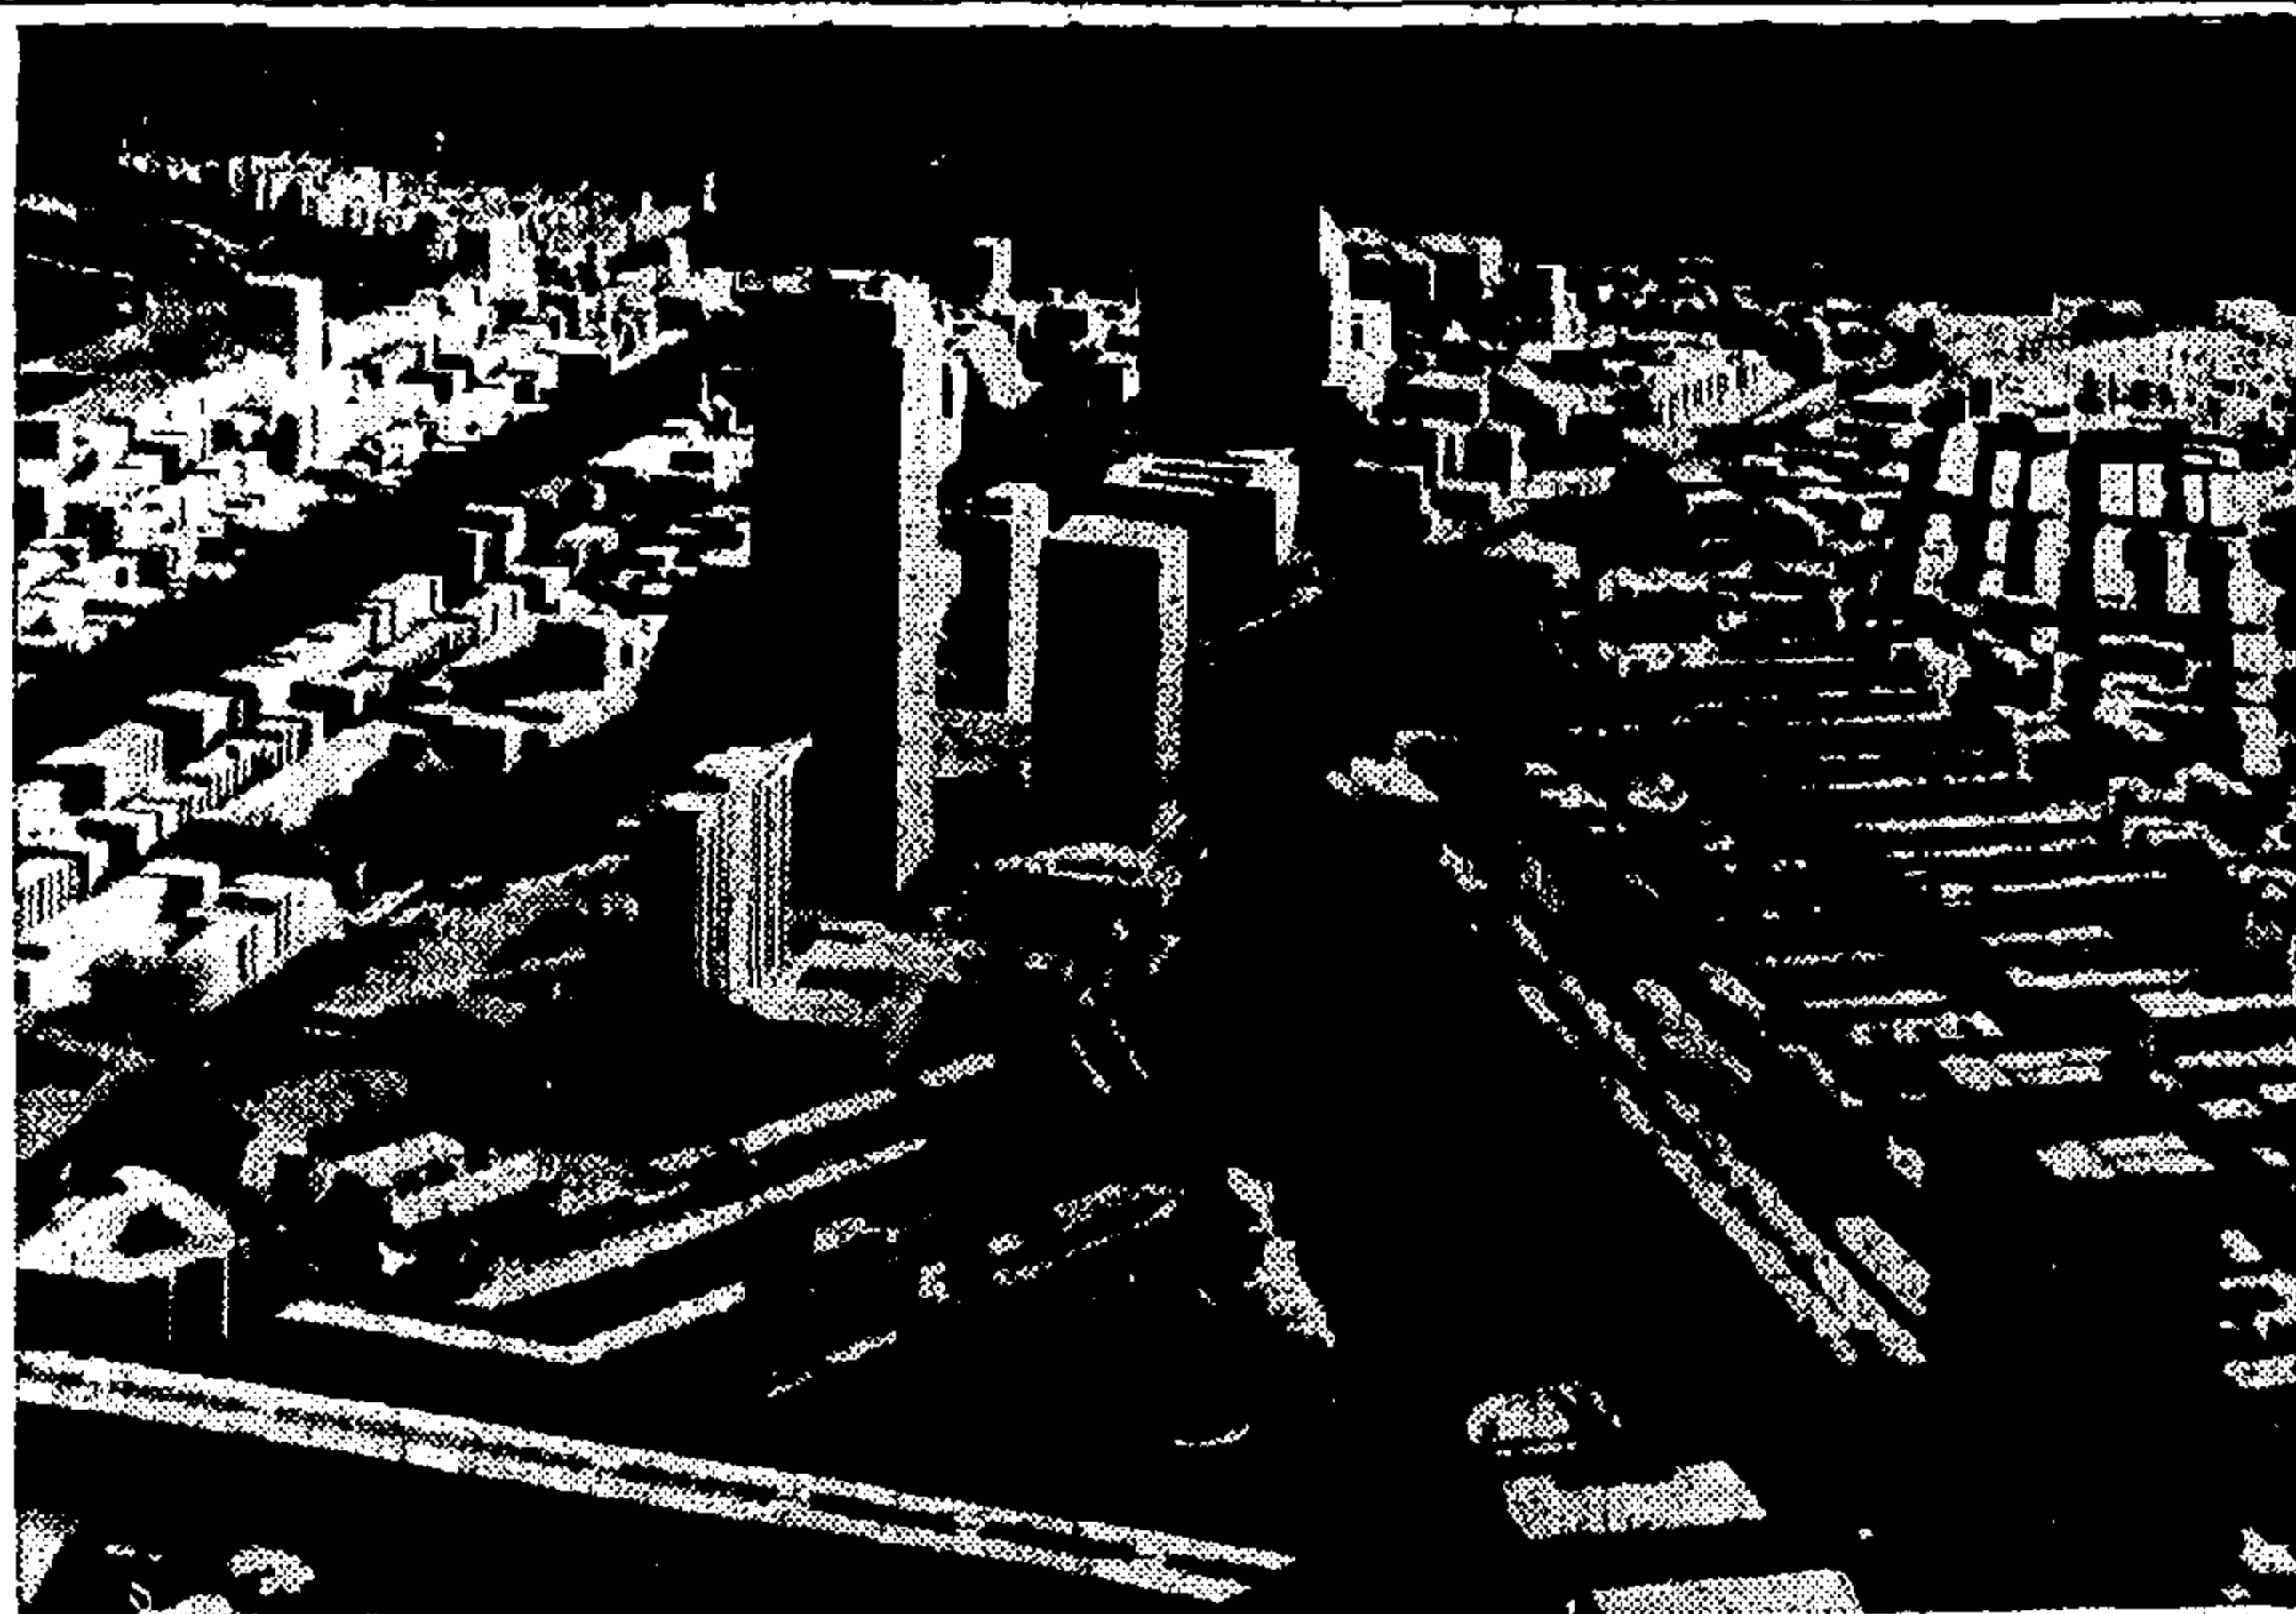

"Poverty is remembering—remembering quitting school in junior high school because the nice children from nice homes were so cruel about your clothes and your smell. . . . I remember when I quit school and the attendance teacher came to see my mother. She told me I was pregnant. I wasn't, but my mother knew they wouldn't make me go back to school if she told them that. She thought I could get a job and bring home some money. I had jobs off and on, but never learned to earn much."

"I remember mostly being married. I was so young. I'm still young, but you can't tell it. In another town for a little while we had most of the things you have: a little house with lights, hot water and everything. Then my husband lost his job. For a little while there was some unemployment insurance. But soon all our nice things were repossessed and we moved back here. . . ."

She then speaks of three years and three babies. A little later her husband decided to leave. "I knew the day my husband left that he wasn't coming back. I hope he has been able to climb out of this mess somewhere. He never could hope to do it here, with us to drag him down. It was after he left that I first asked for help. I finally got it: Seventy-eight dollars a month for the four of us. That's all we'll ever get. That's why there is no soap, no medicine, no needles, no hot water, no aspirin, no hand cream, no shampoo—none of those things ever. And forever, I pay twenty dollars a month rent. The rest goes for food, grits, corn meal, rice, beans and milk. . . ."

"Yes, I know there are health clinics. They are in the towns, and I live eight miles from any town. I can walk that far, but my little children can't and I can't carry them. . . . Poverty is an acid that eats into pride until pride is burned out. It is a chisel that chips at honor until honor is pulverized. You might do something if you were in my situation for a week or a month. Could you do it year after year, getting nowhere? . . . I leave my despair long enough to tell you this. I did not come from another place. I did not come from another time. I'm here, now, and there are others like me all around you."

"I thou lend money to any of my people with thee that is poor, thou

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH CENTER IN BOSTON

The Christian Science Church Center, now under construction, adds another feature to the new face of Boston. This model shows the 15-acre Center in its Back Bay setting. The domed structure, The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, is central to the triangular area. At the upper end of the long reflecting pool a new 26-story Administration Building will be built. A combination Sunday School and Conference Building (lower end of reflecting pool) will also be added. A new building for service functions will be attached to the Publishing House, which is located at the left of the Church. On the perimeter of the area, commercial structures and apartments will be erected by private developers. Beyond the Church Center is the Prudential Center and the projected John Hancock buildings.

Scientists Hold Annual Meeting

A number of members of the Westfield Christian Science Church were among more than seven thousand people gathered in Boston for the Annual Meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist last week.

A message from the board of directors, read by Arthur Wuth, its new chairman, stressed individual effort as the first step in any attempt to help solve the world's ills. "Poverty, ignorance, war, racial conflict, immorality, civil disorder, mental and physical enslavement exemplify standards torn down, spiritual ideals desecrated, the best of civilization fallen into disuse," Mr. Wuth said. Today's world of destructive upheaval and a tremendous change calls men to be spiritual builders.

Nehemiah's example as a spiritual builder was cited as still vital and useful to Christians today. In rebuilding the wall of Jerusalem, Mr. Wuth explained, Nehemiah was making practical his own understanding of God and His kingdom. "Is not the need then for individuals dedicated to their work, committed and consecrated to the task of spiritual building?" he asked.

Mr. Wuth then quoted the disciple Peter: "Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ (I Peter 2:5). 'Lively stones imply more than building blocks,' he continued. 'Liveliness denotes action, action resulting from spiritual unfoldment, action that is inspired, rightly motivated, God-supported, God-sustained.'"

"The Church must fulfill the requirements of peace by teaching the practicality of the great commandments—love for God and love for one's neighbor. It must teach the allness of God, good, the impersonality of evil, and the ability of the individual, whatever his race or color, to demonstrate this."

"Harmony, order, and peace know no color line. They belong to the spiritual heritage of each individual; shall not be to him as a creditor; neither shall ye lay upon him interest." Exodus 22:25.

"Blessed is he that considereth the poor. Jehovah will deliver him in the day of evil." Psalms 41:1.

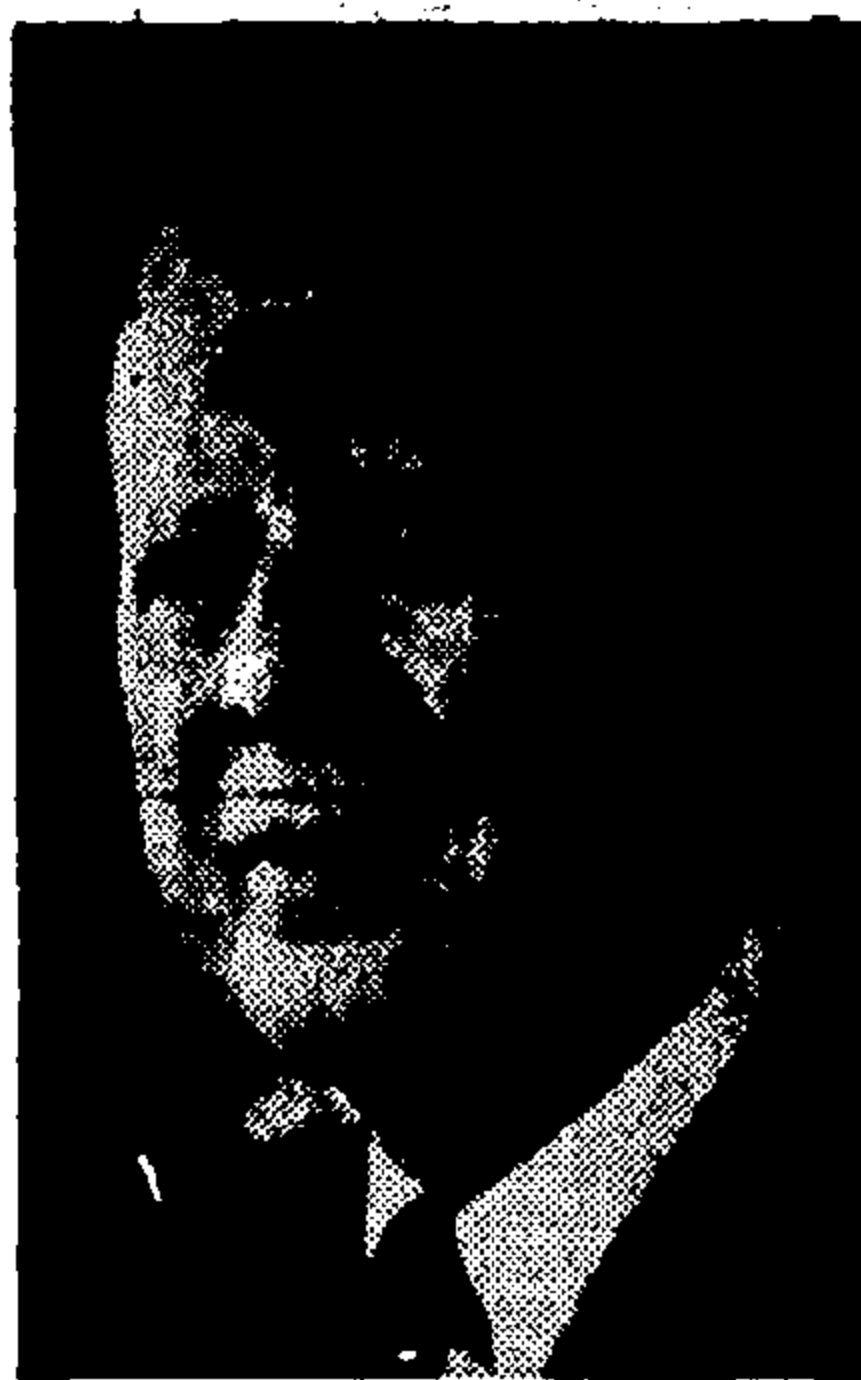

"He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto Jehovah and his good deed will he pay him again." Proverbs 19:17.

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon me; because Jehovah hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the poor; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound; to proclaim the year of Jehovah's favor, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn in Zion, to give them a garland for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they may be called trees of righteousness, the planting of Jehovah, that he may be glorified." Isaiah 61:1-3.

And finally, I would bring two quotes from Jesus Christ:

"And he said unto him also that had bidden him, When thou makest a dinner or supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsman, nor thy rich neighbors; lest haply they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee. But when thou makest a feast, bid the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: And thou shalt be blessed; because they have not wherewith to recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed in the resurrection of the just." Luke 14:12-14.

"One thing thou lacketh y.e.: Sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me." Luke 18:22.

GORDON V. COMER
new President of the Christian Science Church

and it is the responsibility of Church to assert, demonstrate and maintain this standard.

The healing and uplifting work of Jesus, Mr. Wuth said, attested the practicality of spiritual building by means of prayer and inspiration.

Ray Baker Eddy, who discovered and founded Christian Science, taught the need for each individual to contribute to the progress and regeneration of society through spiritual building, he said.

Gordon V. Comer, newly-elected president for the coming year, said that whatever the turmoil of the present times, spiritual values and all the blessings they bring to humanity will survive.

The Christian Scientist visiting Boston this year noticed many changes resulting from the large building project now underway. Considerable demolition and foundation work has already been completed. Construction is expected to begin this month on a new administration building, a new Sunday School building and a large multi-purpose building.

At present the activities at the headquarters of the denomination are carried out in eight different

To Renew Vows At Redeemer Sun.

The morning services at Westfield's Lutheran Church on Sunday will be in honor of brides and grooms wed in the past in Redeemer Church by the local pastor, the Rev. Walter A. Reuning. All couples concerned have been invited by personal letter from the pastor.

The liturgy, with responses between pastor and congregation, will be in the form of a renewal of the marriage vows by all husbands and wives present.

The sermon subject will be "The Risen Life in the Home."

In the assembly of Sunday Bible school classes in the parish hall at the close of the session, 10:30 a.m., awards will be given for faithful attendance to members of the Junior and Children's Choirs. Mrs. Wilbur Ga Nun will announce the awards. The Boy Scout award, Pro Deo et Patria, for which Mark Johnson has been working for more than two years, will be awarded by Pastor Walter Reuning and affixed by his father, Ralph Johnson of Westfield. William Meyer, superintendent, is in charge of the ceremonies.

Reappoint Four Local Ministers

Four ministers of the First Methodist Church here have been appointed to their posts by Bishop Prince A. Taylor Jr.

They are Dr. Clark W. Hunt, who has been named for his 11th year; Rev. Roger Plankow, minister of education, second year; Rev. J. C. Whitaker, minister of visitation, eighth year; and Rev. Philip Dietrich, minister of music, seventh year.

Redeemer School Promotes Class

Redeemer Lutheran Day School held a promotion service last night at Redeemer Lutheran Church. Speaker for the occasion was Rev. Walter A. Reuning, pastor. Also participating in the service was a special choir composed of members of Redeemer Day School, grades three through six.

John List, chairman of the board of parish education, addressed the parents and children, and David A. Janisko, principal of the school awarded the certificates of promotion.

Testimony Meeting, Wednesday, 8:15 P.M.
"The Lord is my rock, and my fortress and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of salvation and my high tower."
This verse from Psalm 18 is part of the Responsive Reading in this week's Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. Subject of the Lesson is "God the Preserver of Man."
Selections from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "If we are Christians on all moral questions, but are in darkness as to the physical exemption which Christianity includes, then we must have more faith in God on this subject and be more alive to His promises."
The service begins at 11 a.m. The public is invited.

Week Needed For Address Change
One week's notice is requested of readers of the "Leader" who are changing their addresses. Address lists are made up one week in advance, and while it is possible at the last minute to send an extra paper to a new address, it is not possible to prevent the already addressed paper from going to the old address without the user's notice.
The "Leader" will be happy to send papers without extra charge anywhere in the United States for those subscribers who are planning to be away for long periods.

St. Paul's Choir Concert Tomorrow

Joseph Haydn's "Mass in Time of War" and J. S. Bach's Cantata No. 105: "Herr, gehe nicht ins Gericht" will be sung by the Choirs of Men and Boys of St. Paul's Church at their 12th annual Choir Concert to be presented in the church tomorrow evening. Soloists in the program, which will be conducted by Richard Connelly, organist and choirmaster of St. Paul's, are Delys Jones Smith, soprano; Maria Martell, contralto; Walter Blazer, tenor, and Holly Merdel, bass. The choir will be accompanied by an orchestra of strings, oboes, clarinets, bassoons, trumpets, timpani and organ.

Bach's Cantata 105 is considered to be one of his finest creations. Written in 1725 for the ninth Sunday after Trinity, it is scored for soprano, contralto, tenor and bass soloists, chorus, two oboes, trumpet, strings, and continuo. The unknown librettist provided a text of exceptional high quality and Bach seized every opportunity in translating it into a truly inspired musical setting. The "Mass in Time of War" is one of the six large-scale masses Haydn wrote in his later years. Scholars believe that this work was first performed on Sept. 13, 1796, at the Bergkirche in Eisenstadt. On Dec. 26 of the same year, Haydn conducted his new mass for the first time in Vienna. The title of the Mass is self-explanatory. Austria was engaged in the disastrous war with Napoleon, who was winning battle after battle in Italy. In August 1796, the government in Vienna issued a proclamation calling for general mobilization, and prohibiting any talk of peace until "the enemy is back in its old boundaries." It is entirely likely that Haydn was just then composing the famous Agnus Dei, with its sinister timpani part (incidentally using a much slowed-down version of a French army drum roll). The war continued to cloud Haydn's last years, and as he lay dying in May 1809, the French had occupied Vienna and Napoleon was established in the Schonbrunn.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained from choir boys, at the parish office, or at the door on the night of the concert. Proceeds go to the Special Choir Fund.

Dr. Loo Guest Of Alliance Church

Dr. Andrew Ben Loo, chaplain serving the Shihlin Chapel for seven years, which is attended by President Chiang Kai-shek and high officials of the Republic of China will speak at the Alliance Church, Retford Ave. and Cherry St., Cranford, at 7 p.m. Sunday.
For the last 20 years Dr. Loo has been associated with the Pocket Testament League as its official resident representative, with headquarters in Taipei.
Dr. and Mrs. Loo are both graduates of Columbia University of New York. Dr. Loo is also a graduate of Yenching University in China and Grace Biblical College. He has pastored churches in New York, Chicago, Boston and San Francisco, and has been interpreter in Hong Kong for Billy Graham's crusades. He recently was in Vietnam in connection with the Pocket Testament League campaign of evangelism and Scripture distribution now going on there. The public is invited to attend.

Grace Bible School To Open Monday

Monday will be the opening date for Vacation Bible School at Grace Orthodox Presbyterian Church, to be known to the children as "Midvale Longhouse." Daily sessions, from June 24 through July 3, will be from 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m.

James Petty, coordinator for the school, has announced the roster of teachers for the five departments. Mrs. R. P. Width, and Mrs. R. L. Atwell are in charge of the beginners department; in this group will be children entering kindergarten or first grade in the fall. Primary grades, for those entering second and third school grades in the fall, will be taught by Mrs. R. Roeder and Mrs. J. Daane. Mrs. W. A. Cox and Mrs. R. A. Barker will teach the juniors, who are to be in fourth and fifth grades. Intermediates, those going into sixth and seventh grades, will be taught by the pastor, the Rev. R. L. Atwell. Mrs. R. E. Packard and Mrs. Width will share the teaching responsibilities for the junior high school class.

Advise Clergymen On Involvement

Ministers should stick to their preaching and not try to change the world. There's no need for "starry-eyed romanticism" to try to fix the problems of the inner city. These suggestions for clergymen came from two speakers at separate sessions during an institute for ministers at Rutgers University arranged by the College of Agriculture and Environmental Science. The first was from Leo Weinstein, judge of the Monmouth County Juvenile Court, and the second from Seward Hiltner, professor of theology and personality at Princeton Theological Seminary.

"You can influence politics, but not become involved," Judge Weinstein stated. "Rather, you should become involved with your people, your flock, in opposing drug abuses, crime and immorality." "Conduct yourselves so that troubled souls will seek you out and ask your help because they know you're there in time of need. Serve individuals and the masses will prosper." Dr. Hiltner said he detected a tendency among seminarians to "go after the Holy Grail jobs." He directs young men with a missionary zeal to somehow help Harlem to turn instead toward the suburbs "which have got to become more Christian." Comments such as these enlivened the three-day conference June 3-5, in which 85 clergymen examined the conflicts in the role of the minister.

Rabbi Krolloff To Have Role in N.Y. Conclave

Rabbi Charles A. Krolloff of Temple Emanu-El, will deliver an invocation at the 79th annual convention of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, June 17-20 at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, Boston, Mass.

Rabbi Krolloff will lead his colleagues in prayer at a workshop session on interfaith relations on Wednesday morning.

The Rabbinic Association of more than 1,000 Reform Jewish leaders has chosen as its theme "Where Are We Now?"—an assessment of such issues as: World peace, civil rights, church-state, inter and intra-religious relations, and the campus revolution. Particular attention will be given to seminars dealing with the status between American and Israeli Jewry, the Jewish intellectual and the Jewish religious community and Jewish education for the young and adult.

Individuals and the masses will prosper."

In the Major National League last week, the Cubs won over the Braves 5-2 in the remaining innings of a game suspended earlier on account of darkness and rain.

Replay of an earlier tied game ended in a Card victory 8-6 over the Astros. The big blow of the game was a three run homer by Chuck Jarrett in the sixth. The Cards pounded out 15 hits, including three each by Steve Stein and Mike Semels and four by Tom Keys. Alan Snyder pitched very well in relief. Kaufman and Musell had two hits each for the Astros.

In a strong comeback by the Astros in the sixth, ignited by a homer by Hinkley, the Astros overcame the Cubs 11-7.

The Cards beat the Pirates 8-3, pitcher Jack Keesing allowing only 15 hits while striking out 10. Big hitters for the Cards were Steve Stein, Mike Semels and Alan Snyder. Fielding gems were performed by Chuck Jarrett, Daryl Brewster and Jimmy Reich. Top Pirate performers were pitcher Jeff Beuhler, fielders Reed and Jeff Buckner and hitters R. Swab and Ford.

The Dodgers took the Braves in a game that was called for darkness with the score 10-4. Rich Bradley allowed 6 hits and 3 walks while fanning 9. Tom Bruno had a 3 for 3 day. Rick Schadle and John Davis hit doubles.

The Phillies trounced the Mets 13-2. Glen Larsen pitched four hit ball, yielding two hits to Buddy Robinson and one each to Dave Robinson and Kevin Kelly. Dave Bonnett had two triples and Steve Sharp and Bob Busiere each had two hits. Joe Cairns had four singles and two RBIs.

The Dodgers edged the Astros in a tight game 6-4. Dodger pitchers, Dennis Priolo and Brian Clarke came through with good performances to edge Astro chucker Dave Huff. Dodger hitters were Alan Webster with 3 for 4 and Brian Clarke and Dennis Priolo, 2 for 3. Steve Musell batted in all four Astro runs.

Glen Wilton led the Pirates 15-6 over the Mets. He was the winning pitcher and went 4 for 4. Bob Swab hit a bases loaded triple while Charlie Swab got two hits.

The Braves lost to the Cards, 10-6. Outstanding Braves were Brian for a good hard hit and Mosher for good relief pitching. Outstanding Cards were Jack Keesing, a home run and Alan Snyder, who pitched. With one hit pitching by Tim Gos-ki and hitting by Belford, Martino, Mansell, Rick Fleming, Biggio and Maroney, the Giants took the Cubs 13-1. Cubs' stars were Jim Armstrong, Jim Wickes and Jay McDonald.

The Astros took a 2-0 lead in the third, but eventually lost to the Cards 6-2. Tucker Cory and Tom Keys each hit a two run homer in the fourth. Mike Semels pitched and Bob Papacelo sparked in the field with 5 assists and 4 put outs at second base.

The Dodgers, behind the hitting of Greg McMillan, Alan Webster, Brian Clarke, Dennis Priolo, Tom Bruno, Rich Bradley and Bill Hunzinger downed the Phillies 9-6. Bob Davis kept the Phillies under control, striking out 11 and yielding six hits. Dave Bonnett and Chad Childs shared pitching chores for the Phillies. Bonnett got 3 of the Phillies' six hits, two of them home runs.

A game suspended at a tie situation by darkness will be replayed by the Braves and Pirates.

The Cubs downed the Red Legs, 10-3. Jones pitched for the Cubs, supported by Hansen, 4 for 4. M. McDonald and Scott Jones two hits. Red Leg hitters were Masters, Kaye, Bruneto and Lindley.

The Mets defeated the Cubs, 4-2. Cub hitters were Hansen with a triple and two singles and Elzinga, Anderson and Scott Jones with two hits each. Met D. Robinson got two hits.

The Dodgers overcame the Pirates 11-7, led by Dennis Priolo with two home runs, one a grand slam, and batters, Webster, Rich Bradley, Tom Bruno and McMillan. Brian Clarke pitched for the Dodgers, walking only one, and giving up seven hits. Pirate stars were D. Bowman and J. Harbaugh with hit. Jeff Beuhler pitched for the Pirates.

The Phillies defeated the Braves 11-3. Jeff Lane, Chad Childs and Dave Bonnett had two hits each and Paul Kinnell and Joe Cairns had hits. For the Braves, Warren Graves walked five times and Clausen had a triple.

Bob Anderson pitched and hit the Tigers to their first win of the season in the American division. Anderson went 3 for 3 at bat. Roy Parrott got a triple as the Tigers beat the Yankees 8-5. Miller had 4 hits and D. Smith and Welch had 2 each for the Yankees.

Behind one hit by Jester, Steve Schroppe and the pitching of Jester, the Red Sox beat the Tigers 14-6. Jerry Gigon had a triple for the Tigers.

The Red Sox won over the Angels 13-5. Charlie Schroppe pitched for the winners. Ira Thorne pitched for the losers. Larry Nugent had 2 hits.

The Twins, behind the pitching of David Kirtzman beat the Yankees 10-9. Kirtzman had 2 homeruns, Crawford, 3 hits and Digitalamo two. Crosby led the Yankees with 2 hits.

The Senators beat the Athletics 8-4. Mone Turner of the Senators scored 3 runs, one a homerun.

The Athletics beat the Indians 14-8 on the hitting of Dave Chomowicz, Craig Jones, John Salomone and Bob Jones. Jim Bender was the winning pitcher. Phil Carragher got a triple for the Indians.

The Senators won over the Yankees 7-0 on 1-hit pitching by Monte Turner. Vin Lally got a homerun for the winners.

Mitch Sandak pitched for the White Sox and got 2 hits. Peter Cherr had 3 hits and 3 RBIs.

The Angels won over the White Sox 10-5. Ira Thorne got 2 homeruns. T. Villane got his first hit. Kelly, Cherr, Childs and Boss had hits for the losers.

The Twins won over the Orioles 9-5.

The Senators downed the Red Sox 6-2. Vin Lally pitched for the winners. Seven Senator batsmen led by Mone Turner and Andy Goodson, shared in the 10 hit attack.

Hillside captured the singles and doubles Union County championships held at the Westfield Tennis Club. Each school in the county that wished to, entered a singles player and a doubles team.

Miller, who was second in the nation in the 14 and under group last year, swept the singles, losing only four games to three opponents. Receiving a pass in the first round, the first seeded 15 year old beat his second round Union opponent 8-1 in a pro set.

Last year's third place singles player Jan Bailey of Hillside was downed 6-0, 6-0 by Miller in the semifinals. Ed Faulkner of Cranford, who placed second in the tournament last year, lost to Miller in the finals in straight sets.

The unseeded Devil doubles entry of Chancer and Galligan, advanced into the finals after downing the second seeded Cranford team in straight sets. Hershkiwitz and Forman downed the Devils in straight sets to win the doubles competition.

The issue was still in doubt up to the last day of the season. However, Sacramento was able to hold on to its lead and Salt Lake City lost its finale to drop into a tie for second place with Phoenix in the Pacific division.

After starting the season with three straight losses, Phoenix found itself behind the pitching of John Hollander and Mark Evertsen, and finished with seven straight wins.

In the last two games Hollander's pitching sank Vancouver, 12-4, and Mike Farrell's pitching, with a three-run homer by Hollander, settled Seattle 14-5. Dan Farrell, on the mound was also instrumental in the seven game streak.

Sacramento beat San Diego on a forfeit, 1-0. On the same day Portland beat Waco, 13-8. Richie Slaff had a home run along with Steve Lewis and Ed Maguire. For Waco, Mark Farrell, and David Kronick with three hits apiece paced the attack. Roger Lavy had a three run homer.

Portland came up with six runs in the last inning to beat San Diego 14-11. Richie Slaff, Kevin Beste and Bobby Coleman hit well for Portland. For San Diego Doug Aggar had two homers and a triple and Alan Moore a homer.

Waco took Vancouver, 15-8. For Waco, Mark Carroll and Dan Dillon each had four hits. George Balmer, David Kronick and Jay Sheppard also hit.

Salt Lake City dropped its finale to Spokane 2-0. Salt Lake could not hit Eric Edelson's pitching. The loss put Salt Lake in a tie for second with 7-3-0, while the win brought Spokane up to a tie for fifth place.

San Diego with a 4-5-1 record must play Tulsa with a 2-7-1 record. If San Diego wins, it will move into a three way tie for fifth and if Tulsa wins, it will go into a two way tie for eighth.

The Royals clinched the championship of the Eastern Division of the Pony League with two wins last week by identical 13-0 scores over the runnerup Eagles and Elks. The Royals will meet the Western Division winner for the championship. The current Western leader, the Bears, dropped their only game to the Orioles.

The Royals got revenge for their only loss of the season, when they beat the Elks 13-0 as Joe Moninger and John Zimmerman combined for a six inning no-hitter. In their 13-0 win over the Eagles, Jeff Stewart pitched the shutout as the Royals broke the game open with 12 runs in the last two innings.

The Orioles upset the leading Bears 4-3 behind the pitching of Mike Clements. Clements allowed three hits, two by Jim Dello Russo, and struck out 19 in the nine inning game. John Gill hit a single in the ninth with the bases loaded to win it.

In the completion of a delayed game, the Colts squeaked by the Orioles 3-2. The winning run scored on a steal of home by Joe Bonner. The steal came with a 3 and 2 count on the batter and two outs. The Colts also took another squeaker as they beat the Rangers 1-0 behind the pitching of Keith Bremer. The winning run was scored in the sixth on singles by Tom Pfeiffer and Kevin Ronner plus Pfeiffer's stolen base. These were the only hits allowed by the Rangers' Gist Johnson.

The third squeaker involving the Colts saw the Colts losing to the Bisons 1-0 as Brian Fitzpatrick pitched a one hitter for the Bisons. Fitzpatrick had a perfect game going until Ed Morton bounced a ball through third. Al Deombeleg produced the game winning hit in the sixth to score Kurt Stiefeken.

Jim Wheaton pitched well to lead the Elks 5-1 over the Rangers. Bob Byrnes led the hitting with a double, a single and a sacrifice fly.

Numbered Nomenclature

Many, in recent years, have been heard to complain bitterly about the numericalization of our lives and affairs for the accommodation of the computer, with lengthy account numbers, zip codes, area codes, not to mention social security numbers. Nor have horses escaped the numericalization bit.

No one complains about the horse having been given a lip-tattoo number, not even the horse. The application is painless and the number, an adaptation of his Jockey Club registration number, is out of sight and serves a very good purpose, providing instant and positive identification. Prior to the introduction of the lip-tattoo by the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau in 1946, there had been a number of cases of mistaken identity, some accidental, others by nefarious design. Unscrupulous characters were once wont to substitute one horse for another for the purpose of a betting coup, an impossibility today.

Where horsemen and devoted racing fans do object however is when, at the finish of a thrilling and traditional stakes event, a man turns to his companion and says: "Number 3 win it," and they are not cringing at the grammar which is an accepted turf colloquialism. A Thoroughbred has a proudly bestowed name and a genealogy traceable for several hundred years but the mechanics of Totalisator betting today require that he be referred to by number. This is correct and proper when asking for your horse at the mutual window, but otherwise he should be referred to by name.

The Chestnuts edged the Pacers 17-6 in extra innings to gain a second place tie with the Roans in the Mustang Eastern division last week. In the see-saw battle where the lead changed six times, key hits by Neil Zack and John Larino brought in the winning run. For the Pacers, Bob Shahanazarian had two hits while Gary Checchio, Brent Greever, and John Gundinger each had hits and scored two runs.

The Stallions held off a last inning rally to squeeze by the determined Buckeyes 6-5. Curt Way was the winning pitcher and had two hits. Tim Cate had a triple and a single scoring two runs. Successive hits by Cate, Way, Rob Bixler, a walk by Rich Stump and a hit by Dick Koch gave the Stallions four runs in the fourth. Two more were added in the fifth for the win. The Buckeyes took an early lead on hits by Frank Carter and Joe Clement and held the Stallions scoreless for three innings. A fifth inning rally with hits by Greg Piligan and Mike Winett missed tying the game.

The Roans downed the Pacers 1-0 in another game. The Apaches once more finished at the top in the Western Division by defeating the Seminoles 7-2 behind the pitching of John Brossard. The Sioux beat out the Cherokees and Hurons, 17-9, and 14-1, respectively.

Sophomore Terry Copeland of 2380 Seneca Rd. is one of 18 players recommended for lacrosse letters after Wittenberg University's first year as a varsity team.

The former basketball and tennis player at Fanwood High School in Scotch Plains had two goals and an assist as the alternated as a starting attacker on the Wittenberg team.

Mrs. Faxon Medalist In Echo Lake Golf

Mrs. A. D. Faxon, carding 90, was the medalist in the qualifying round for the women's club championship at Echo Lake Country Club last week.

In regular stroke play, Mrs. Frank T. Bell won in Class A with 88-16-72. Mrs. Stewart C. Morton was second with 91-17-74 and Mrs. Preston Bell had low putts, 29.

The Class B leader was Mrs. William E. Hedges, who shot 92-25-67. She was followed by Mrs. John V. Bloys 99-26-73. Mrs. Alfred H. Meyers took low putt honors with 28.

Mrs. Frank Keogh was the Class C winner with 107-36-71. Tied for the next spot were Mrs. Robert Duncan 106-32-74, Mrs. Willis Coe 109-35-74 and Mrs. William B. Clancy 108-34-74. Low putt winner was Mrs. Robert Davies, who took 27.

Girls Softball Near Final Games

As the tenth season of the Girls Softball League draws to a close, in the National League, the Cubs have emerged champions of Division A and the Lions champions of Division B, closely followed by the Reds. In the American League, with the game schedule still incomplete, the Twins are leading, closely followed by the Angels.

Wendy Meyers' grand slam homer in the fifth iced a 13-4 victory for the Indians over the Senators. Carol Appenzatto pitched for the Indians and got credit for a put out or an assist on seven of the Senators 15 outs. She was also three for three, raising her batting average to .750. Ann Maxwell pitched well for the Senators, striking out four. Infielders on both teams backed up their pitchers, particularly Nancy Chenitz and Annette Haefli for the Senators and Nancy Theil, Sue Russell, Wendy Meryer, Cindy Bernstein, Wendy Grispin for the Indians. Wendy Meyers' grand slam homer in the fifth clinched it for the Indians.

In the Vikings 5-3 win over the Dodgers, it was Beth Maher's fielding and three run homer along with solo homers by Fran Goodman and Deb Lawler that provided the margin. Judy Davies and Lori Keeler socked consecutive homers for the losers.

Viking scorers in their 8-2 win over the Giants included Lisa Tate, Liz Bussiere, Theresa Zelinskie, Les Bischoff, Lisa Matus, Beth Maher and Deb Lawler, who hit a two run homer, but it was Julie Sterner's two run single in the fourth that broke the game open.

The Chargers slugged their way to a 13-5 win over the Red Sox with Jo Ann Cummings, Maryann and Linda Ward, Kathy Boylan, Charlene Mathis and Margaret Schultz contributing the heavy hitting. The Dodgers under the pitching of Jody Davies, beat the Pirates 5-3. Cheryl Payne and Donna Russo hit homers for the Dodgers and Joanne Cacchione hit one for the Pirates which brought in two runs.

The Reds outscored the Pirates 4-5. Sue Boston pitched and had a double. Leading the offensive were Liz James with a homer and Nancy Morasso, Betsy Moore, Kathy Kamins, Jan Callender, Betsy Callender, Mary Jo Davidson, Laura Lickman, Dana Left and Liz Fitzpatrick. Behind the heavy hitting of Nona Kraviec who had a homer bringing in two and that of Bidget Ryan, Kay Lindley and Diane Boyle who were three for three, the White Sox whipped the Jets 13-9. Janet Hardy, Sue Frost and Colleen Kelly also had hits.

In three extra innings, the Cardinals shaded the Cougars 5-4. Audrey Grubman's leaping catch started an inning ending double play. Pitching by Amy Mallor, who was also a heavy hitter, held the Cougars scoreless in six of the eight innings. Ellen Campbell drove in the winning run. Nancy Swan drove in the tying run for the Cougars in the bottom of the sixth.

The Phillies and the Pirates played to a 5-5 tie. Hitting stars for the Phillies were Mary Hollander with a homer and Sheila Bentley, Pam Kaczynski and Cindy Hannis.

Amy Simon pitched all the way as the Phillies broke a tie to take their season's finale from the Giants 9-8. Karen Booth, Hilary Davis, Andrea West and Mary Joan McManus were the heavy hitters.

The Eagles in first position in the American Division of the Hedgehoppers, soared to victory over the previously undefeated Falcons on relief pitching of Mike Glantz. All the runs were scored in the first frame of the 2-1 game. A walk to Timmy Babb, a triple by Bruce Dunn and a double by Scott Pritchard scored the two runs. Hergeth, Murray and Smith supplied the hitting punch for the Falcons.

The Panthers held to undefeated first position in the National Division by beating the Jays 3-0. Chuck Cosenza and Bob Kelly combined for their fourth shutout. The Panthers scoring was on hits by Scott Williams and Richard Crosta. John Bardasore, Frank Mirkew, Jim Heckman and Mike Nixon hit for the Jays. Bob Czarny and Scott Roney pitched shutout ball for the Jays after the first inning.

The Lions and Robins played to a 7-7 tie. Backer, Berkoway and Brody got two hits apiece.

The Zebras behind the pitching of Alter and Bundy won over the Larks 9-0. Hitters for the Zebras were Nick Sidorkis and Brian Chester. Matt Page of the Larks pitched three good innings.

The Bruins defeated the Pelicans 5-1. Tommy Ansbro hit a double. Jeff Sheppard pitched three innings, striking out seven, allowed two walks and one hit. Robbie Malcolm, Jimmy Teller, Bill Bonzall, Steve Braun, and Bill Harms scored a run in 10 walks. Tom Ansbro allowed four hits but only one run while striking out seven. Matt Sullivan drove in Peter Fletcher for the Pelicans' only run. Bill Miller, Dan Rindner and Dave Cloughy collected base hits. Brian Clancy pitched three scoreless innings.

Behind the pitching of Jim Pfing and Joe Delia Badia, the Wolves won 12-2 over the Gulls. Scott Selett's triple, a double and a single by Pfing, and singles by Dean Badia, Garry Goodman, and Steve Radowski paced the Wolves. Stuart McCracken's triple for the Gulls brought in one run, and hits by Mark Duncan and Bill Parkhurst made the second.

The Owls held to second position sparked by the pitching of Mike Taylor and Dave Sterling and the nailing of Chris Harvey to win 1-0 over the Hawks. John Curral and Tony Bullock of the Hawks gave excellent pitching performances. Tony Bullock hit a double for the Hawks.

Womens Tennis Team In Double Tie

Westfield women fought to a draw with a powerful Morrisstown tennis team here last week. Jean Sevig and Pat Stuhler (W) defeated Margaret Van Rensselaer and Helen Rowley, 1-6, 6-2, 6-3. June Stevens and Lu Kelly (W) lost to Pam Engel and Baba Parker, 2-6, 7-5, 9-7. Betty Allen and Valentine Fort (W) lost to Anita Cole and Desa Bristol, 6-3, 6-4. Millie Van Leuvan and Marian Leslie (W) defeated Marion Niles and Isabel Brittain, 6-1, 8-6.

Friday Westfield faced Orange Lawn. Jean Selvig and Lu Kelly (W) defeated Maddie Hill and Jean Larkin, 6-3, 6-2. Betty Allen and Millie Van Leuvan (W) lost to Nancy Mangan and Barbara Wachenfeld, 8-6, 6-0. Anne Yearly and Marian Leslie (W) lost to Sue Taylor and Madeline Farris, 10-8, 3-6, 6-4. Gloria Anderson and Beverly Strong (W) defeated Debbie Wolf and Helen Hagerman, 6-1, 6-4.

Clear days and dry roads are the motorists greatest invitation to tragedy. An annual survey by The Travelers Insurance Companies shows that approximately 80 percent of 1967's 52,200 highway deaths occurred in this type of weather.

To Offer Summer Stars Program

A Summer Institute in Astronomy for high school students will be offered this summer at the Sperry Observatory at Union College, it was announced today by Anthony Paone of Westfield, director.

The institute will run from Aug. 12 to 23. About 20 students who will be entering their senior year in high school will participate, Mr. Paone said.

Each high school in Union County has been invited to nominate a student to participate in the institute, which will be financed under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. There will be no tuition or fees. The institute will be held daily, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to noon and several evenings.

"During the two-week institute, each student will develop an original project in astronomy under the guidance of members of the Sperry Observatory staff," Mr. Paone said. "The aim of the institute is to determine the scientific interest of each student, to provide an opportunity to go into one aspect of astronomy in some detail, and to become acquainted with equipment available in an astronomical observatory." The institute is part of the Cranford public school system's Title III project, "Operational Astronomy: the Earth and Beyond."

CIT Program For Day Camp

James Newell, director of Day Camp Mindowaskin of the Westfield YMCA, announced today that a counselor in training program is being instituted in connection with Day Camp Mindowaskin.

Designed to train high school sophomores and juniors in the skills necessary to obtain future counseling positions, the program will be personally supervised by Joseph Lazar, now in his fifth year as program director of Camp Mindowaskin.

Counselors in training are not assigned regular responsibilities in the camp program and do not receive payment. Two training sessions will be held, the first from June 24 until July 19 and the second, from July 22 until Aug. 16.

High school boys wishing more information about this training opportunity should contact Mr. Newell at the YMCA.
